Jobs joy as store is set for opening

A NEW supermarket was opening in Burntwood today (Thursday) creating 35 jobs.

The ribbon was being cut at the Aldi store, at Bridge Cross Road, Chase Terrace.

Burntwood parish councillor Eric Drinkwater, who lives in Chase Terrace, says while he is a staunch supporter of the German foodstore chain, he hopes the supermarket does not take business from shops already struggling in the area.

Councillor Drinkwater said: "I'm a big Aldi supporter – it'll save me travelling to do my shopping so I really welcome it.

Competition

"There is a possible downside to it, however, as it's another supermarket which could create some competition with the local shops on Sankeys Corner.

"It could affect the other shops quite badly, I think, although, it could attract people to the area and closer to Sankeys Corner Shopping Precinct."

Aldi area manager Aidan Lawrence said: "After five months of preparation, we're ready to welcome customers into our new Aldi store, one of many now open across Staffordshire."

Aldi's new store has 67 customer parking spaces and a range of around 1,350 product lines.

Homes go powerless

AROUND 3,000 homes were affected when an underground cable fault caused a power cut in Hednesford.

The problem began at 5am on Tuesday and lasted until 8.30am, although most people had their power restored within an hour. A separate fault left 30 people around Old Fallow Road in Cannock without power from 6pm until 11.30pm on Monday.

Western Power said the faults – both caused by underground cables – were unrelated.

Olympic gymnast cuts ribbon on new scanner

Kristian Thomas with medical director Robert Courteney-Harris and David Loasby, business development director for Alliance Medical Ltd

A STATE-of-the-art MRI machine has been declared open for use at Cannock Chase Hospital by Olympic gymnast Kristian Thomas.

The new 3T scanner has twice the power of the hospital's old 1T machine allowing doctors to diagnose problems quicker and more efficiently thanks to higher levels of detail and clarity.

This £1.5 million investment by Mid-Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust comes despite a £20 million loss last year and at a time where NHS budgets are being slashed.

The funding was gained thorough a close partnership with Alliance Medical Ltd, Europe's leading independent provider of medical imaging services.

Benefit

Lyn Hill-Tout, trust chief executive, said: "We are very pleased to have this powerful new scanner, which is one of only a few in the UK, at Cannock Chase Hospital for the benefit of our patients." Kristian met with staff and cut the ribbon in a ceremony that marked the improvements in diagnostics at the Brunswick Road hospital.

"We are delighted that Kristian was able to join us to mark this important day for the hospital," added Mrs Hill-Tout.

David Loasby, Business Development Director of Alliance Medical Ltd, said: "We look forward to this being the first of many 3T installations for Alliance and were thrilled to mark this special occasion with Kristian."

MP'S PLAN DUBBED 'COTTAGE HOSPITAL'

CHASE MP Aidan Burley has been asked to look into the feasibility of handing over Cannock Hospital for the community to run.

By Tim Spiers

But his would-be rival at the next General Election has dismissed the MP's 'cottage hospital' proposal.

Conservative MP Mr Burley has been in talks with health regulators over the idea as an option for the future of the troubled site. It has seen the number of its wards reduced and kitchens earmarked for closure.

The proposal, the first of its kind in the country, has received backing from Health Secretary Jeremy Hunt and now the health regulator Monitor has written to Mr Burley to further investigate the plan.

Conclude

Mr Burley has until the end of next March to finalise the proposal when Monitor will conclude its review into services at the Mid-Staffordshire Foundation Trust.

He claimed his plan would be backed by the people of Cannock.

"If you spoke to local people and asked if the hospital should be sold off and closed to solve the problems of Stafford Hospital, or would they rather the government handed it over for the community to run, I think they'd say the latter," Mr Burley said.

"If we were to achieve this it would be something we could be very proud of locally and it would be a model for other communities to follow."

But Cannock Chase Council's deputy leader Janos Toth, Labour's Prospective Parliamentary Candidate for Cannock Chase, believes residents would not be in favour.

He said: "Aidan Burley has not consulted the people of Cannock and will find little support for withdrawal from the NHS. People in Cannock Chase value the NHS and want a hospital that is part of the National Health Service, not a stand alone enterprise that will inevitably have to seek funding from the private sector.

"We want full NHS provision, not a cottage hospital."

In a letter to the MP, Monitor chief executive David Bennett said the regulator was willing to allow him the time to develop a business case, but said no conclusions had yet been drawn about the hospital's future.

Speaking in the House of Commons, Mr Hunt said: "I congratulate my honourable friend for his campaigning and very hard work on this issue, which I think represents a very interesting way forward for community hospitals.

"I know all members of the House will watch carefully with interest what happens in Cannock."

Cannock Council leader George Adamson raised doubts over how the hospital would be funded. He said he would rather the hospital stayed within the NHS.

"The problem is that it will cost £2 million just to keep the hospital running and that's without paying staff salaries," he said. "More questions need to be answered before I can give the scheme my backing."

Rob's sights set on fundraising

Rob Hyden at home in Rugeley with his dog Thunder

AN animal lover from Rugeley wants to raise money for charities as a thank you to readers who came forward with offers of cash to save his dog's sight.

Robert Hyden's dog Thunder has made a full recovery from surgery to remove cataracts which has restored 100 per cent of his vision.

Mr Hyden, who works at a nursing home, has now written to good causes offering his services.

He hopes sponsored dog walks could boost their coffers. Mr Hyden, aged 35, of William Morris Court, said he wanted to give something back after readers contributed to the £7,000 cost of Thunder's operations.

"If it wasn't for everyone coming forward I would never have managed to get the money myself," he said.

"Now Thunder is on the mend and hopefully won't suffer any setbacks. I'm trying to earn as much money as possible for charity."

Anyone interested is asked to call Mr Hyden on 07530 971704.

Feed the reindeer at festive fun day

REAL reindeer will join Santa in a festive visit to Hednesford's new Tesco supermarket this weekend.

The Victoria Street store is getting into the festive spirit and Santa and his reindeer visit for a Christmas Fun Day on Saturday (December 1) from 11am to 3pm. Children will be able to meet Santa for free and feed the three reindeer who will be in a pen close to the store.

Store manager Richard Betts, said: "We are new to Hednesford and we wanted to kick of the festive season by having some real reindeer in store. It should be really magical and very special."

Alternative

Meanwhile, shoppers can travel by bus to the store, which opened on Monday.

The 80,000 sq ft store has created hundreds of jobs and has more than 580 car park spaces. But bus operators Arriva are urging people to take the alternative transport.

Seven routes covering Heath Hayes, Wimblebury, Pye Green, Chadsmoor, Rugeley, Rawnsley, Burntwood and Cannock will take shoppers to and from the new development.

For details of bus times and fares, telephone 0844 8004411.

St John's Nursery dress up for Children In Need

Nursery's pyjama party

ANY parent knows how difficult it can be getting young children dressed in the morning. So it must have come as a relief to some when a Heath Hayes nursery chose to raise money for a good cause by having everyone wear pyjamas – including staff.

The youngsters from St John's Nursery, on Hednesford Road, certainly enjoyed the Children in Need fundraiser, although not all dressed in their nightwear.

Deputy manager Lisa Ryder said: "It was a great day. I think everyone really enjoyed dressing up – especially the staff. Some of the kids came as fairies and one came as Spiderman. We even had a Buzz Lightyear."

As well as dressing up, the children, aged between two and five, raised £38 by baking Pudsey Bear cakes and teddy-shaped biscuits to take home to their parents on November 16.

"It was a really fun way to raise money for a great cause. We tend to do something for Children in Need every year but this was more than we usually put on."

Call former trust boss to give evidence – MP

AN MP has claimed that former health trust boss Martin Yeates should now give evidence to an inquiry into the Stafford Hospital failings after taking up a new job.

Mr Yeates was chief executive of the trust which runs Cannock and Stafford hospitals for four years.

During his tenure, hundreds of "excess" patient deaths came to light.

A Healthcare Commission report found in 2009 that Between 400 and 1,200 people are thought to have died needlessly at the hospital as a result of poor care.

Mr Yeates never appeared at an inquiry into failings in standards of care due to illness and only gave a written statement to the inquiry.

However, it emerged last week that Mr Yeates had now taken over as boss at Shropshire-based health charity Impact and Addiction Services. And Stafford MP Jeremy Lefroy has now called for Robert Francis QC to summon Mr Yeates before he publishes the findings of his inquiry in January.

Picture

Mr Lefroy said: "It seems that he would now be in a position to give evidence to the inquiry and that's what I believe he should do.

"Clearly as chief executive at the time it is vital that his knowledge of things should be incorporated as part of the inquiry. For the inquiry to have the fullest possible picture of what went on, he needs to give evidence."

Mr Yeates' lawyer Andrew Hodge says his client remains too unwell to give evidence, as he is suffering from a form of post-traumatic stress which prevents him from discussing his time at Stafford.

"The mere fact he has a medical condition doesn't necessarily mean it is impossible for him to work in any capacity at all," he said.

Driver goes flat out on puncture prevention

A BURNTWOOD lorry driver is offering motorists a novel way to banish punctures for good.

John McCabe, 47 of Rose Lane, bought 'Prevent a Puncture' after seeing the invention on Dragon's Den Ireland.

The tyre sealant is only available at five centres in the UK, and stops punctures from happening by acting as a barrier between the inside of the tyre and the air. But Mr McCabe wants drivers to know that he can perform the procedure himself.

Interested

He said: "I bought the sealant after getting punctures on my own car. People became interested in how it worked and asked me if I would put it in their car and motorbike tyres.

"Punctures cost a lot of money to repair and can also cause damage to alloys.

"If you have to get towed by a recovery truck, the cost is astronomical. That's why the sealant is so good. It doesn't take long to put into tyres and is very beneficial in the long run."

Anyone interested in having the procedure done should call Mr McCabe on 07815 460394.

Lick of paint from Trust team

Members of the Prince's Trust team armed with paintbrushes for the makeover including, at the front, Rosie Maddox, Rebecca Hinsley and Morgan Banbery

YOUNGSTERS have transformed a home for young families in Cannock with a lick of paint and a bright new mural. Prince's Trust volunteers spent two weeks redecorating Bromford Support in Heath Way.

The 11-strong group painted all the communal areas, including the ground and first-floor corridors, quiet room and a children's play room where they added a colourful sealife-themed mural. They raised money for their materials through a 21-mile sponsored row at the Nuffield Health and Wellbeing Centre in Cannock, collecting £560.

The volunteers, aged between 16 and 25 from Cannock and Rugeley, are on a 12-week programme with the Trust to help them with life skills, social development and finding jobs.

Snooker hall safe – but 25 will shut

TWENTY-five snooker halls are to close after Rileys went into administration – but the branch in Cannock has been saved.

The company is making 146 staff redundant after falling into administration.

But a pre-pack sale of the business to private investors has rescued the remaining 625 staff and 78 clubs, including one in High Green.

It is the second time the business has gone into administration in the last three years.

Chief executive Maurice Kelly said the company had suffered cashflow and trading difficulties as the double-dip recession put pressure on consumer spending.

He said: "We have not been immune to those problems experienced by retailers."

Mr Kelly also blamed the failure on the smoking ban and changes to the Gambling Act which disadvantaged commercial snooker clubs.

But he said the buyout deal, brokered by KMPG, would see Riley's get "significant" investment from private sources.

Tories seek candidates

CONSERVATIVES in Cannock Chase are looking to select council candidates for the district council elections in May 2014.There will be 13 seats up for grabs and the party is looking for candidates with strong local links.

Anyone wishing to put their name forward is being urged to get in touch with Chase MP Aidan Burley at aidan@aidanburleymp.org

He said: "With a chance to cut council tax, save our hospital and regenerate our town centres, being a local councillor could not be more important to our area."

Interviews will be held by the end of January.

Give blood plea

NHS Blood and Transplant is appealing for volunteers to roll up their sleeves in Cannock next week. Sessions take place at the Civic Centre, in Beecroft Road, from 1.30 to 3.30pm and from 4.30-7.30pm on Monday, December 3. Call 0300 123 23 23 to book.

Decrease in jobless numbers

UNEMPLOYMENT among young people across Cannock, Rugeley and Hednesford has fallen, but is still higher than the Staffordshire average, new figures have shown.

Council bosses attributed a significant part of the drop to the new Tesco store in Hednesford.

The numbers claiming jobseekers allowance among 18 to 24-year-olds in Cannock Chase fell from 760 in August to 710 last month. Overall unemployment in the district dropped from 2,291 in August to 2,246 last month.

Cannock Chase aims to reduce youth unemployment to the county rate by 2017. Currently the number of 18-24-year-olds without a job stands at 9.9 per cent of the working population compared to the county average of 6.1 per cent.

Council leader George Adamson said: "We've still got a lot of ground to make up, but this is good news for the town and for the area as a whole.

"We are doing everything we can to facilitate economic growth through job creation. At our request Tesco have taken on a lot of 18 to 24 year olds and have promised to do so again when they open in Rugeley."

School gets a Royal tree

A CANNOCK school is planting more than 100 trees and 400 hedge plants on its grounds in celebration of the Queen's Jubilee.

Hazel Slade Community Primary is joining forces with the Woodland Trust for its Jubilee Woods project.

The Cannock Wood Street school has also received a Royal Oak sapling grown from an acorn gathered from a Royal estate.

The public is invited to the planting at the school on Saturday (December 1) from 11am until 3pm.

Headteacher Louise Brealey said it would be a fitting tribute to this year's celebrations.

Elderly couple counting cost of downpours

AN ELDERLY couple are counting the cost of the heavy rain that has left their home flooded for the third time in a week.

In the latest torrents at the weekend, firefighters spent more than eight hours battling to pump water from the property in Lingfield Drive., Great Wyrley.

George Cavill, aged 80, and his wife Joyce, 65, were also helped by family and neighbours.

Thousands of litres of water cascaded through their back garden and into the house from a playing field owned by Great Wyrley parish council.

A 'soak away' between residents' back gardens and the playing field, which slopes slightly towards the houses, was unable to cope with the excessive amount of rainwater. Around six properties in the road were affected.

Nightmare

Mrs Cavill said: "It was a nightmare. We're pensioners and we can't cope with this happening every time it rains heavily."

Twice last week rain gushed into the couple's conservatory following sustained downpours but on Saturday night they were unable to cope with the flood.

"We'd gone to bed at about 10pm when a neighbour rang, saying the patio was flooded. She rang 999 but before long the whole garden was a lake. Seven or eight relatives came to help us bail out water from the conservatory.

"It was horrendous, the water just kept coming. The firemen were here until 8.30am on Sunday pumping out."

Parish councillor Janet Johnson, who helped to secure more sandbags for the couple, said the authority had been trying for some time to arrange a meeting between themselves, the Environment Agency, Severn Trent Water and the district and county councils to see what could be done.

A HERD of sheep had to be saved from being swept away in flood waters after a river burst its banks.

Report by Kirsten Rawlins

Around 25 officers from Staffordshire Fire and Rescue were called to Wolseley Bridge Farm on the A51 Rugeley Bypass at around 8am on Monday. The River Trent had burst its banks and around 40 sheep were in danger.

Firefighters used boats to reach the animals, which were huddled in groups on the field at the edge of the water.

Officers then entered in specialist dry suits and herded the sheep out, lifting them to dry land.

Four sheep, which farmer Peter Till says were spooked by the rescue, fell into the water and were swept away in the current. They died at the scene. The fire service said the rescue was carried out as quickly as possible. Spokesman Sarah Collis said: "This was a tough and long job. It takes a lot of patience and time when there are animals involved, as they can be unpredictable.

"We estimate there were around 40 sheep affected. From a distance there looked to be around 10 sheep because they were all huddled together. It seemed like a never-ending rescue at one point.

"Unfortunately a few did lose their lives, but the sheep who could be saved were."

Mr Till, who has owned the farm for 16 years, criticised the authorities, claiming the Environment Agency issued no flood warnings for the area. He said: "What happened here was a tragedy. Had we been warned, the sheep wouldn't have even been there."

Mr Till, who estimates the damage will cost thousands, says he is now looking to claim compensation.

Serious

The Environment Agency was unavailable for comment.

Mr Till also claimed the field never had serious flooding before the Rugeley Bypass was built.

But transport county councillor Mike Maryon said: "With all major schemes we always work closely with partners such as the Environment Agency, and extensive environmental studies and flooding modelling will have been carried out as part of the planning process to build the bypass."

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

THURSDAYS In The Park, by 62-year-old Hilary Boyd, is a tale of sex for the over-60s and has become a sudden sensation. It had to happen. Our big, cosseted, super-confident Babyboomer generation has yelled about its sex life from the rooftops for the past 50 years, so why stop now? The big difference is that back in the 1960s you lit the candles, switched the music on low, slipped into the kitchen for that bottle of champagne and va-va-voom. Half a century on, you light the candles, switch the music on low, slip into the kitchen, can't remember what you're doing there and decide to dismantle the thermostat on the boiler. Exciting, but how do you turn it into a novel?

ON the four days preceding last Wednesday, the forecast was wall-to-wall sunshine across England. Come Wednesday, the heavens opened. It was the sort of downpour you could probably have predicted with a pine cone and a bit of seaweed yet the professionals, with billions of pounds' worth of satellites and computers, missed it.

MEANWHILE, global warming appears to have cooled down. Met Office figures show temperatures dropped during 2011 and 2012 from the high levels of 2010. It goes without saying that the experts dismiss this as "statistically meaningless." It only becomes meaningful when the temperature goes up.

UNDETERRED by the weather, Mrs Rhodes and I wrapped up warm and strolled into town, pausing for light entertainment at our local ford which was full and foaming and too much for some drivers to resist. It is one of the eternal mysteries of life that a man (rarely a woman) will risk £20,000 worth of car in a ford rather than make a short detour. Sure enough, a BMW was up to its axles, the owner very red-faced.

ONE of the great myths of our time is that if developers are allowed to cover the Green Belt with houses and factories, Britain's economy will boom again. Bunkum. The Town & Country Planning Act which created the Green Belt, has been with us for the past 65 years. In that time, Britain has been through both booms and busts, which suggests that the Green Belt is not a big factor in the economy. It is, however, a huge factor in making this country a decent place to live. And when David Cameron announces he will limit the right of citizens to ask for judicial reviews of controversial plans, alarm bells should ring. The Green Belt made Britain pretty when it had a population of 50 million, keeps it comfortable with 60 million and is the only thing that will make it bearable if our leaders in Whitehall are stupid enough to let it rise to 70 million. If we lose the Green Belt we lose the England we knew.

Boxer's return delayed Till new year

A FORMER professional boxer had his first pro fight in 16 years postponed after his opponent pulled out due to injury.

Peter Till was due to step back into the ring last Friday (November 23) at the Premier Suite in Cannock.

It would have been the first time Till had boxed since 1996 and he was raising money for Prostate Cancer UK in memory of his father George, known as 'Fono' to his friends. But the event was cancelled after opponent Brad Sanders pulled out due to a back injury.

The show, which had six fights on its bill, has now been postponed until January 30. Fans who have bought tickets will be able to use them for the rescheduled date.

Premier Suite owner Scott Murray said: "It's disappointing for Peter and his fans but injuries do happen to fighters unfortunately. He is top of the bill so we have had to postpone the show."

Till said: "I am gutted really as I was both physically and mentally prepared for the fight. We have rescheduled the fight for the end of January so I will have to take it easy over Christmas to ensure I am ready and raring to go."

The former Midlands area lightweight champion won 30 of his 52 professional fights. He was a former sparring partner to Barry McGuigan and the two stay in touch over mutual their love of Tottenham Hotspur Football Club.

Till has kept himself fit following his retirement and has been stepping up his regime by training at Pleck and Walsall Wood Amateur Boxing Clubs.

Tickets for the January 30 event start from £15 and are available on 01543 572092 or 7432 142343.

Housing leader warns of high rent increases

THE district's housing boss has warned that only the better-off will be able to afford rents in Cannock Chase in 10 years time as private landlords push up prices.

Councillor Frank Allen, Cannock Chase Council's housing leader, said: "The housing bomb is ticking and there will soon be a big explosion."

by Marion Brennan

A report by housing charity Shelter – which backs up Councillor Allen's claim – warns that the new housing benefits which come into force in April will not keep up with increases in market rents.

And it predicts that by 2023 renting in Cannock, Hednesford and Rugeley will become unaffordable for housing claimants.

Currently the district has 4,240 homes in the private rented sector, accounting for 10 per cent of the housing stock, which is almost half the national average. Social housing makes up 18 per cent of the total.

Struggling

The shortage has led to landlords increasing their rents due to the need for homes.

In addition, many lettings agents were now charging an administration fee which claimants are struggling to find.

The report said that young single people and larger families, in particular, were struggling to find affordable accommodation.

The number of young people who had sought discretionary housing payment in the past six months to help them with their rent has doubled over the same period last year.

Cannock Chase Council has been praised nationally for being "exceptionally proactive" in linking up with private landlords.

But Councillor Allen said they were limited in what they could do.

He said government restrictions meant that no council house had been built in Cannock Chase for 25 years and social housing on new estates was restricted to 14 per cent.

"Successive governments have put housing on the back burner and we are now reaping the harvest of that," said Councillor Allen.

"In the 1980s we were building 250 to 300 council houses a year, we used to pride ourselves on our record, but that has stopped, and I can't see any light at the end of the tunnel.

"People have not grasped how detrimental the housing benefit changes will be to their current way of life.

"I don't know what's going to happen but our hands are tied – that's for the government to decide."

Upgrade is proposed at precinct

A NEGLECTED shopping precinct in Great Wyrley could be in line for a much-needed revamp.

Villagers are to be invited to have their say on improvements they would like to see at the Quinton Shopping Centre, in Wardles Lane.

The county and district councils have teamed up to spruce up the precinct as part of a five-year plan to attract new businesses and help those already there.

For many years the Quinton has sparked complaints about empty shops and units and anti-social behaviour.

Council chiefs say the revamp will be heavily influenced by the thoughts of the public and businesses in the area.

A county council spokesman said: "A big part of these plans will be speaking to people in Great Wyrley and the parish council to find out what is needed there and to support what they feel will benefit them."

South Staffs District Council leader Brian Edwards said teaming up with the county council would enable it to undertake projects which it otherwise could not afford.

He added: "The Quinton Shopping area has always been of concern to us."

Appeal over bikes theft

BURGLARS stole bikes and accessories worth a total of £15,000 from a Chasewater cycle shop. A dozen bikes, a frame and computer were taken.

The raiders struck at ChaseWaterCycle shop at Chasewater Country Park, in the early hours of Thursday, November 15.

Lesley Knowles, who set the firm up three years ago with husband Richard, appealed for anyone with information to come forward.

The bikes taken include a blue and red Genesis Flyer, light grey Genesis Abyss and dark grey Genesis Alpitude.

A grey HP standalone computer was also taken.

Anyone with information should call police on 101.

Drugs arrest

A MAN was arrested following a drug swoop in Hednesford. Police recovered suspected heroin and cannabis from the Lomax Road flat last Wednesday (November 21). The man, thought to be in his late 20s, was released on bail for further inquiries.

College celebrates environmental award win

Graham Morley with Fiona Bruce, left, and Carole Taylor, director of development and research at the National Institute of Adult Continuing Education

STAFF and students from South Staffordshire College are celebrating their win at the Times Education Supplement awards that were held at a gala event at Birmingham's LG Arena.

The college, which has campuses in Cannock and Rodbaston as well as in Lichfield and Tamworth, beat six other education institutions to win an award for Outstanding Practice in Sustainability. The trophy was presented to the college's Chief Executive Principal, Graham Morley by BBC newsreader and presenter Fiona Bruce.

South Staffordshire College was recognised for becoming the first to reach tough standards in environmental management and aims to further reduce waste to landfill next year.

Haven

Its latest buildings have also met the highest standards for energy and water use and its 180-hectare rural campus in Rodbaston is a haven for vulnerable animals such as otters and songbirds.

Mr Morley said: "Sustainability is one of South Staffordshire College's core principles. The College has placed the protection of the environment at the heart of what it does.

"It is therefore particularly pleasing that the programme we have developed has been recognised in this way and we are delighted to pick up the prestigious TES Outstanding Practice in Sustainability award."

TES Editor Gerard Kelly said: "The entries were of an unbelievably high standard and reflected the innovation and ambition that are common in the sector."

A star is born as Nativity actor Ben chases dream

by Lisa Wright

THE FLOOR is littered with Lego and cuddly toys are scattered on his bed – so just like any ordinary 10-year-old's bedroom, then?

However fame and fortune has come early age to Cannock youngster Ben Wilby, who stars in new Christmas comedy Nativity 2: Danger in the Manger.

The St Mary's RC Primary School pupil shot to fame after starring as Bob in the hit 2009 comedy Nativity! and reprised the role for the sequel – starring alongside former Doctor Who actor David Tennant and Gavin and Stacey actress Joanna Page.

The hallway of Ben's Cannock home is decorated with pictures of the young star alongside the likes of Barbara Windsor, Jimmy Carr and Jedward.

He has also appeared on ITV show This Morning and in several television adverts.

Ben started freestyle dancing at the age of four after joining Walsall Academy of Dance and has since won hundreds of trophies. He now attends ballet and tap classes three times a week in Willenhall.

In the movie, Ben plays a pupil at St Bernadette's who goes on a road trip to the national 'Song for Christmas' competition.

Cheeky

He said: "It was a different cast, we all had to audition again. Bob is a cheeky chappy. He does some rapping in this film."

Ben endured long hours of filming in Wales and Warwick Castle for about eight weeks last winter. He was also on the red carpet for the premiere in London's Leicester Square, which he said was 'amazing'.

"I had a personal bodyguard. I was signing lots of autographs and doing interviews. It was a privilege to do it," he said.

The youngster wants to attend the Sylvia Young Theatre School in London. But Ben, who has three older sisters, says he still enjoys time to sit back and relax.

"I like to sit down and chill at the weekend," he said. "I like to go to Cannock Chase for a walk, build Lego, play Fifa with my dad and ride my scooter up the street."

He was also made the patron of charity Clowns in the Sky, dedicated to the research and treatment of childhood brain tumours.

At the age of two, Ben had an elongated skull and underwent a 10-hour operation to remodel his skull and relieve the pressure.

Smaller bin proposal is rubbished by council

COUNCIL chiefs in Cannock Chase have ruled out a move to introduce smaller rubbish bins after it emerged replacing containers across the district would cost £500,000.

It comes after Stafford Borough Council revealed plans to deliver new 180-litre 'baby bins' to residents whose current 240-litre versions are lost or damaged.

But Cannock council leader George Adamson said savings from introducing smaller bins would be negligible.

He also rejected calls for a switch back to weekly waste collections.

Councils across the county were warned last week that Government funding could be cut if weekly collections were not restored.

by Catherine Dalton

Apply

Around half of councils in the country are believed to run some form of fortnightly collection, including Cannock Chase and South Staffordshire.

All opted not to apply for a slice of a £250 million Government cash pot to support councils which do maintain a weekly service and Councillor Adamson said: "We made our decision because the current system works perfectly well.

"We don't see the need to change it, people are happy with it and it's working well."

Local government secretary Eric Pickles said in a statement: "Weekly bin collections are one of the most visible frontline services and there is no plausible reason why councils shouldn't deliver them.

"We will be looking closely at the central government funding for bin collections, councils receive £28 billion in formula grant funding – it's not unreasonable that they provide a decent bin service in return."

Traders celebrate

Town crier Peter Taunton with Cannock Market traders, Tina Law, Margaret Lavender, Julie Last and Anne Franks

TRADERS in Cannock staged a weekend of celebrations to mark the 40th anniversary of the town's indoor market.

Former stallholders returned to their old stomping ground to mark the milestone anniversary. Some even donned 1970s costumes to commemorate the decade it first opened.

Town crier Pater Taunton joined traders past and present for the celebrations. Margaret Lavender, of Lavender Blue Underwear, has been at the market since it was launched in 1972.

She said: "I've been here since the day it opened and I can't imagine the town without it."

Attacker sent down for assault on shopkeeper

A SHOPKEEPER was brutally attacked by a gang of three men caught trying to steal beer from his Cannock store, a court heard.

Sazid Saiyad was repeatedly punched and kicked and was left with a fractured eye socket and a serious eye injury, Stafford crown court was told.

One of his attackers, Matthew Mold, of Bowes Drive, Cannock, was jailed for eight years and two months. However, Mr Saiyad has been left with a severe mental illness as a result of his trauma, the court heard. He has been so badly affected he was unable to give evidence against two of the alleged attackers and the prosecution had to drop charges against them.

Mold, aged 26, admitted a charge of causing grievous bodily harm with intent.

Blood

Mr Nick Tatlow, prosecuting, said the assault happened on June 4, 2010, at his Anchor Stores in Bevan Lee Road.

Mold maintained he had not kicked the victim, but bloodstains on his shoes proved he had. Police arrested him shortly after the assault in Stafford Road. He was drunk, his clothes covered in his own blood and he was wearing only one shoe.

Mr David Iles, defending, said his client had no memory of what happened. He said: "My client pleaded guilty on the one occasion this was listed for trial. The complainant attended in a wheelchair and was plainly too unwell to give evidence.

"To his credit, knowing this, he still pleaded guilty," Mr Iles added.

Weeks of waiting ends

THE long wait finally ended as Hednesford's new Tesco store opened its doors.

Scores of customers turned up to take advantage of special offers for early-bird visitors at the Victoria Street store on Monday. VIPs from Cannock Chase Council, Hednesford Town Council and Hednesford Town FC's mascot and assistant manager performed a ribbon-cutting ceremony.

The store created 220 jobs, with 94 going to long-term unemployed.

PM's cuts too deep and not working

IN SUPPORT of MP Councillor Janos Toth, I must put Conservative Group Leader CCC Paul Snape right on things he said in the Chronicle, November 15.

As organiser of the group from our area and UCATT I approached Councillor Toth, to invite him to join us on the march. On arriving in London at 11.30pm we joined the march at 12.15 and arrived at Hyde Park at 5.45pm. By the time we arrived at the rally stage all the speakers including Ed Miliband had finished their speeches.

If Councillor Snape had read the article correctly, he would see that Councillor Toth agreed cuts would have to be made across the board if Labour were in charge, but that Mr Cameron had been too severe, his cuts are too deep too fast and they are not working.

Fears pub will devalue properties

AT LAST the worst-kept secret is out and we, the residents of Hednesford have confirmation that the Pritchard Group is selling Anglesey Lodge and is in negotiations with Wetherspoons to purchase this building and make it into a pub. Oh what joy, NOT!

I would like to thank Mr Fred Pritchard, who apparently cares so much about Hednesford Town but not its actual residents. As someone who lives on Anglesey Street I do not want a pub on my doorstep, nor do I want the smell of the food blowing from their ventilators or the noise of their punters standing outside smoking.

We all know Wetherspoons opens at 8am and closes at gone midnight and I, my neighbours and businessess do not want this pub in our quiet town. I am also angry that councillor Alan Pearson supports this idea based on bringing people into the town.

If people come to the town to use this new pub they will just be going to the pub – not to forage around the many charity shops. The mind boggles.

When Anglesey Lodge used to be a hotel in previous years there was land attached to it that was a bowling green.

Pritchards built residential property on this. What are these people supposed to do? They will look out of their windows straight into a pub.

The noise and disturbance is one issue but the biggest issue is that living next door to a pub will severely devalue our properties. I am sure Councillor Pearson would not be so happy if the pub was to open on his own doorstep.

MACY GREEN

Just a stunt to say crime being tackled

LIKE many others I did not vote for a Police Commissioner. Firstly, most of the 40 candidates are political. Even one of the Conservatives referred to "one of our candidates".

Secondly, no one was asked if we wanted a commissioner, despite the fact we were given the choice on having an elected Mayor. Next, what experience have these people got in running a police force? If a dozen people complain about yobs running riot in their area what are these commissioners going to do? Finally, I did not even know who was running.

To my mind, this was a stunt to say we are tackling crime. The £4m in wages paid to these commissioners would provide services that are being cut. But is this a way to justify the cuts by stating that the commissioners will make the police service more efficient?

Cycle path mystery

I AM at a loss to understand why cyclists do not use cycle paths where they are provided? Some cars swerve round them and often meet oncoming traffic even at night time.

PS – I am both a cyclist and motorist.

Thank you on Zumba fundraiser

CONGRATULATIONS to Carrie and Ali from Zumba West Midlands, for raising £2,500 in their recent charity Zumbathon.

A big thank you goes to your supporters and participants who gained sponsorship, to those who sponsored them, raffled prizes and sold cakes, along with Barclays Bank who match funded their employee, through their charity arm.

The money was raised in memory of my husband and Carrie's stepdad, Brian Wood, who lost his battle to cancer in March 2011, as a thank you for Hospice at Home service provided by St Giles and Marie Curie, who gave excellent support in his last days.

The Zumbathon was enjoyed by all, a fun and fit way to raise funds. The event was videoed (thanks Steve), so if you wish to see the fun, it can be viewed on 'You tube zumbathon west midlands'.

Voting should be made compulsory

AFTER the 2010 elections, with no political party with a mandate to rule we ended up with the Con/Dems in Government. The vote for proportional representation was a flop, the electorate voted against mayors and also with no mandate we now have Police and Crime Commissioners.

Who will be responsible for the cost of their wages, staff, their pensions and their expenses? And where will the money come from to instigate their decisions? The will of the electorate should be law, not the desires and aspirations of an unelected few. Elections should run until a party secures 51 per cent of the vote and voting should be compulsory so we don't end up with this mess again.

So-called supporters' behaviour questioned

I READ about the number of fans barred from Midlands football grounds and considering the number that attend matches, those banned did not appear high.

However, the United fans' behaviour at the recent Aston Villa game would have them banned from any ground in this country. During a minute's silence for remembrance, the United fans were whistling, cat calling, singing, booing and causing as much disruption as possible.

At Villa, we have a player who was diagnosed with cancer. His club number is 19. In the 19th minute of each home game we have one-minute clapping to show our support. The United fans – so-called football supporters – went through the same routine again.

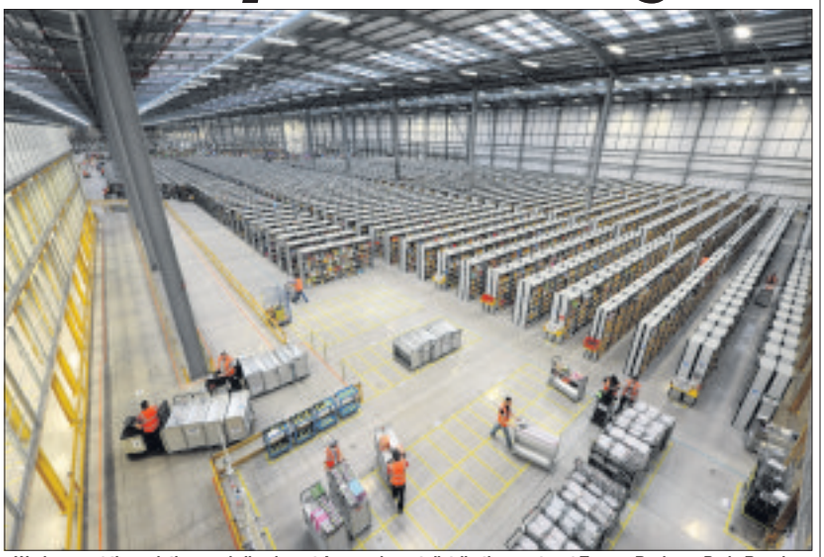
It's just another 'Cyber Monday' for retail giant



Workers sort through the goods lined up at Amazon's vast distribution centre at Towers Business Park, Rugeley

ONLINE retailer Amazon is gearing up for the busy festive period – with 1,000 extra staff being recruited to cope with demand.

The first Monday in December, known by the firm as 'Cyber Monday' is usually the busiest day of the year for online orders, and the company is bracing itself for a rush of 35 orders per second. It comes as the company allowed a behind-the-scenes look at its massive distribution centre in Rugeley.

Warehouse

The huge warehouse, or fulfilment centre as Amazon prefers to call it, only at the Towers Business Park last year, and this is the first time that any newspaper has gone behind the scenes.

The building, next to the town's power station, covers an area of 800,000 sq ft, around 20 times the size of a large out-of-town superstore, and everything from children's toys to clothing is stored among thousands of shelves, rails and racks.

An electronic database keeps track of stock movements while a fleet of landtrains are used to move stock around the vast site.

MEMORY LANE

A march to celebrate the freedom of the borough in Cannock in 1952

Members of The Royal Engineers Association line up for a picture taken back in 1997

The opening of new drill hall on the Walsall Road back in 1932

Bob Leighton from Hednesford with his albums on the Cannock Royal Engineers TA group

History group delight at poignant TA album

STUNNED historians have been handed precious photographs of former Territorial Army servicemen from Staffordshire going back to 1911.

by Marion Brennan

The pictures document a 50-year history of the Cannock-based 213th Royal Engineers from their origins at Norton Hall in Norton Canes to the early years at their current drill hall, built in 1932, at Bridgtown.

Most poignant are images from the First World War, showing local soldiers in France, and at training camps before the conflict started.

The album was compiled by a Captain Lakeland, who lived at Heath Hayes and became a member of the Old Comrades Association, formed after the Second World War by the surviving Royal Engineers from the area.

He handed it to fellow member and former regular soldier Bob Leighton, of Tudor Road, Hednesford, for safe keeping after he left Cannock for Wales to join the Royal Monmouth Royal Engineers Militia. That was 20 years ago.

Bob has kept it in pristine condition in his wardrobe ever since.

Now the Bridgtown and District Local History Society wants to preserve the album for future generations by placing it in their archives.

Bob, now 80, says: "When Captain Lakeland gave it to me, he said 'hold on to this.' If the branch ever folded, I was going to send it to the Royal Engineers Museum at Chatham.

"But the members of the history society are fascinated by it."

The album also contains newspaper cuttings, memorial cards and even a telegram from the Queen at Balmoral wishing the Territorials well. The history of the 213th goes back to 1908 when the 2nd North Midland Field Company was established at Norton Hall, which was long ago destroyed by mining subsidence. Immediately before the First World War, it became known as the 213th Field Company.

Later, the unit went to Egypt for a month before returning to France for the duration of the war.

Private

In the years preceding the Second World War it was regarded as one of the best within the 46th North Midland Division and known affectionately in the town as 'Cannock's private army.'

The history group's secretary Derrick Middleton said: "We were bowled over when we saw the book. It's a wonderful record."

He said in the short-term the society would be using it in their talks and newsletters.

Proposals for crafty Christmas

CHASE TERRACE LADIES

BARBARA Marshall entertained the group with her "Crafty Christmas" talk.

She said her friends had wanted ideas for making simple, inexpensive festive decorations which would not only be useful and decorative but also keep their grandchildren occupied. She now uses the idea as a basis for one of her talks.

Barbara said she never throws anything away which can be of use. Simple tree decorations can be made using the likes of old cereal packets and the silver paper from chocolate wrappers. Crackers can be made using the cardboard middles of toilet rolls and tissue paper.

Barbara also demonstrated some more intricate items and brought along examples of things she had made. She has compiled a book entitled "Crafty Christmas" with instructions and pictures. This can be bought for £5 from Barbara on 01543 686965.

Barbara accepted a donation for the charity Fight for Sight in lieu of a fee.

Ina won the regular raffle of flowers. Beth Poole had put together a Christmas hamper which she had been raffling separately, raising £57 for the Air Ambulance. Gill Powis was the winner.

The next meeting will be a Christmas social with entertainment from singer/guitarist Robert Norman.

Guest entertainers provide belly laughs

A belly dancing guest entertains the ladies at Cannock Women's Institute

CANNOCK WI

PRESIDENT Stella Winfield welcomed Rosemary Larkin back after a recent illness.

Best wishes went to Doris Westwood. Stella Arblaster and Pauline McClough were celebrating their birthdays on the day of the meeting. Best wishes were given to the rest of November birthday ladies, while visitor Dori Burden was given a warm welcome.

Secretary Chris Pace informed members that Cannock would be hosting the Group meeting in March 2013.

Thanks went to Norton Canes for hosting October's Group meeting. For the Christmas party, there will be a lady entertainer, with the competition for a best wrapped Christmas present.

A donation to a charity will be given instead of Christmas cards.

The morning's demonstrators had everyone laughing. They were belly dancers Suzanne and Elle who gave a wonderful display. Some members then got up to have a turn. Barbara gave the vote of thanks.

The competition for a dried flower arrangement was won by Val Craddock.

Miller's tale from speaker

BONEY HAY & CHASE TERRACE WI

VISITING speaker Derek Wharton appeared as 'the cheeky chappie Max Miller. He came attired in plus-fours, a three-coloured jacket and a large hat, red socks and the distinctive black and white shoes.

Max Miller was born in 1894. He left school aged 12 and ran away to join a circus. At 16 he joined the Army and rose to the rank of sergeant. He later went into showbusiness where his mastery of timing made him one of the highest paid stars of the day. He took part in three Royal Command performances, but very little is known of his private life.

Derek's visit are always enjoyable and he was thanked in the usual way.

Make note of waste times

RESIDENTS across Cannock Chase have been urged to make note of changes to waste and recycling collections over Christmas and New Year.

Councillor Janos Toth, deputy council leader and environment portfolio holder, said: "I'd advise residents to make a note of the Christmas and New Year changes now before we get into the festive period so they know in advance when to put their bins out. That way, they won't be caught out and miss a collection."

Residents can check their waste and recycling calendars for the festive season changes at www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/wasteservices

Arboretum set to attract record visitor numbers

THE National Memorial Arboretum is on course for a record year for visitor numbers.

Despite poor summer weather, the Alrewas site has attracted consistently high numbers. July proved to be a record month with more than 40,000 visitors.

Visits by school parties are also on the rise, with more than 6,500 pupils taking a tour of the centre so far this year, an increase of 37 per cent since 2011. The number is expected to rise further by the end of the year, with school groups booked in until the middle of December.

The number of memorials at the centre, at Alrewas, near Lichfield, has also grown and now exceeds 250.

Recent additions have included commemorative statues to the Salvation Army, Cheltenham College and the Parachute Regiment and Airborne Forces, with more approved for construction in the coming months.

This growth comes ahead of new building work scheduled to begin at the Arboretum early next year.

The £12m development project will include the creation of a Remembrance Learning Centre to explain to visitors the importance and meaning of remembrance and the significance of the Arboretum.

Pavilion

It will also comprise a pavilion to accommodate many of the 200-plus events and conferences that take place every year; and Heroes' Square, a partially covered outdoor area for major set-piece events.

Site curator Paul Kennedy said: "The Arboretum has grown organically since it opened to the public 11 years ago."

Skating club given cool £10,000 grant

Elaine Price, Leah Hosker, Diane Stanyard, Cameron Sargent, Cheryl Stanaway, Abi Lindley, Paige Stanyard and Laura Walters celebrate the £10,000 grant award

AN ice-skating club in Cannock has won a cool £10,000 grant from the Big Lottery Fund's Awards for All scheme.

Cannock International Ice-Skating Club applied for the cash as it looks to expand its membership of people with physical and learning disabilities.

The club, which meets at Silverblades Ice Rink at Lakeside Plaza, Cannock, every Saturday, has 70 able-bodied members and four whose ability is impaired.

Chairman Kevin Kelsey said he hoped another 20 members with disabilities could be encouraged to take up the sport as a result of the grant.

"This money will pay for the rink and to have a coach and assistant on the ice," he said.

"It will also be used to purchase some skating aids to help with stability. We want to attract as many people as possible, within the constraints of the size of the rink.

Sessions run from 5 to 6.30pm each Saturday.

Torchbearer hands over cheque to stroke group

Torchbearer Elaine Mills hands over a cheque to Janet Watson and other members of Great Wyrley Stroke Society at the Wyrley Wesley Methodist Church

A GROUP of stroke survivors in Great Wyrley have received a cheque for £100 after being acknowledged for their hard work and efforts to raise awareness.

Paralympic torchbearer Elaine Mills presented the Great Wyrley and District Stroke Group with the money after finding out about their charity work.

The organisation was set up in June last year by members Jackie Harrison, Janet Watson and Jayne Gould after they all suffered strokes and wanted someone to talk to.

Ms Harrison said: "After I had my stroke I wanted to set up a local group where survivors and carers could gain support. People come to us and we let them know there is hope after a stroke. We always welcome new members.

Recognition

"There are 15 of us in the group and we are all so grateful to Elaine for her support and recognition of us. I would like to say a huge thank you to her and I hope that more people will support us in any way possible."

The group plan to use the money to take members on days out and hope to raise enough funds to buy a mini bus in the future. Anyone interested in joining the group should telephone 01922 701036.

Our Sixth Form students say lessons are fun, educational and inspirational

Students are allowed to express their opinions

The Academy ensures its students develop outstanding communication skills

Be a part of something outstanding

COME and be part of something outstanding. Staffordshire University Academy 'A professional, inclusive, 21st Century Sixth Form'.

Staffordshire University Academy Sixth Form is committed to ensuring that every student can access high-quality learning supported with state-of-the-art facilities which ensures that every student makes outstanding progress. To support this learning we will also benefit from a brand new building which is due to open in September 2013.

Our £9.7 million new building will incorporate a dedicated Sixth Form study area where students can relax while studying outside of the traditional classroom.

Students of all abilities will be able to access a combination of new BTEC and traditional A-Level courses in a manner which will allow all students to access the most relevant courses thus maximising their full potential.

Don't just take our word for it; 100 per cent of our current Sixth Form students and their parents stated that they – or their child – was making good progress at the Academy, that the Academy meets their child's needs and that their child is taught well. (Source: Year 12 Parents Evening feedback forms 25.10.12.)

Opinions

Our students further commented: "Our lessons are fun, educational and inspirational."

They also stated that one of our big strengths is allowing our students to 'have opinions and express a voice within the Academy.'

The main reason that our students are so positive is due to the fantastic relationships which we build here at the Academy which is also one of the big reasons that 100 per cent of our students progress onto their chosen university or career pathway from the Sixth Form.

In order to fully support and prepare students for the next stage in their academic journey the Academy believes in ensuring that students have a sound financial awareness, are ICT literate and further develop outstanding communication skills, respect for themselves and become outstanding citizens in addition to achieving outstanding academic progress.

Since achieving academy status in September 2012 our Sixth Form intake has tripled in numbers.

We believe that a significant reason for this is our truly inclusive Sixth Form Curriculum which can be accessed by all, which is further supported by our high quality Information Advice and Guidance. (IAG Quality Mark accredited Academy, February 2011.)

Our results at Post 16 speak for themselves with 98 per cent of our students passing their qualifications in August 2012.

As an Academy we are fully committed to ensuring that our Sixth Form becomes a beacon of good practice within the local and wider community.

Dedicated

This means that we are able to offer places to students who live both within and outside the local area. In addition we also have a dedicated Director of Post 16 who can fully support your son/daughter through their time in our Sixth Form and beyond.

Sound too good to be true? Why not come and visit us on Wednesday, December 5 from 7pm to find out why Staffordshire University Academy Sixth Form is the place for you.

Musical performances to celebrate Christmas

A SALVATION Army band will entertain churchgoers in Rugeley next week. The band, from the Cannock citadel, performs for St Paul's Methodist/United Reformed Church on Wednesday (December 5) from 7.30pm.

The Lichfield Street church's first musical celebration will be followed on Sunday (December 9) by the Christmas production While Shepherds Watched. Currently on a tour of the Midlands, it is being performed at 6pm at Chasetown Methodist Church by Christian Music Ministeries.

During the morning service on December 16 at 11am, Bello Canto, a choir from Chadsmoor Methodist Church, will lead the worship performing Night of Miracles.

Painting of unmarked police cars is proposed

STAFFORDSHIRE'S new police and crime commissioner has vowed to make officers more visible on the streets – by painting unmarked police cars used for patrols.

After officially taking on the new role last week, Matthew Ellis revealed one of the "simple" ways he planned to raise the visibility of police was by transforming vehicles.

However, it is understood that those involved in undercover and surveillance operations will not be altered.

The Conservative won the role to become commissioner by beating Labour's Joy Garner by 51,237 votes to 47,589. But there was a poor turnout of just 11.07 per cent at the polls.

A key aspect of Mr Ellis's election campaign was the visibility of police and he said: "There are simple solutions to some of the problems we have. Why are such a large proportion of vehicles unmarked? If we mark them up you could instantly double the visibility of police on the streets.

"I haven't been able to find an answer as to why so many are unmarked, but we will do so."

Tablets

Other priorities during his three-and-a-half year term will include equipping officers with more modern technology like iPad-style tablets and generating money from the force's old headquarters in Stafford.

"I've already identified money within the current budget that I believe could be used to invest to save.

"We also need to utilise technology. Technology isn't the answer – technology facilitates the answer. Why do police officers have to come back into police stations to find information?"

Wildlife crime is targeted by force

STAFFORDSHIRE Police has been highlighting its work to combat rural and wildlife crime this week.

A week of co-ordinated activities organised by the Staffordshire Wildlife and Countryside Group. will run until Sunday (December 2). It will involve the execution of warrants, targeted patrols of hotspot poaching areas and high visibility policing in rural areas.

The group was formed in October to give police and partner agencies a united approach to wildlife and rural issues across the county. It is made up of community groups, rangers, gamekeepers, the RSPCA and farmer groups.

Baiting

Supt Dave Holdway, force lead for rural crime, said: "Wildlife and rural crime can include poaching, the mistreatment of animals used in baiting, the disturbance and taking of wild birds and the theft of farming or equestrian equipment.

"We want to send out a clear message to those involved that we will disrupt activity."

Anyone with information about illegal activity is asked to report it to police on 101 or to Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Centenary walk

CHASE & District Ramblers head off on a nine-and-a-half mile walk at the Whitacres, including the Warwickshire Centenary Walk on Sunday. Departure time is 9am from Hednesford rail station car park in Anglesey Street.

Care home hits gold with Investors award

A NURSING home near Burntwood has been awarded the Investors in People Gold standard for demonstrating excellence in staff development and support.

The award has been given to national care home operator Bupa and applies to 300 homes, including Hammerwich Hall Residential and Nursing Home.

Hammerwich Hall manager Shirley Gibbs said: "This award recognises the tremendous investment we put in to our staff to ensure we maintain the highest standards of care for our residents.

"Our people are our best asset. We invest in them because we want them to continue to provide round-the-clock, high quality care. It's fantastic that their hard work and commitment has been recognised by this prestigious award."

Ballroom pair blitz rivals to land title

TWO twinkle-toed Penkridge school-children have been crowned British Ball-room Champions.

Faye Edge, aged 15 and dancing partner Alex Plant, 14, triumphed in the under-16s category at the Winter Gardens in Blackpool.

Now the Wolgarston High School youngsters are heading for Paris for the world championships next month. The pair picked up the under-14 world title there two years ago.

Travel

Faye's mother, Sue Lucas, said: "Faye will be 16 in Feb-ruary when she will have to compete as an adult so it was really important that she and Alex won this last British junior title.

"We're keeping our fingers crossed for the world championships."

Since the closure of the Aquarius Ballroom in Hed-nesford to make way for the town's £50m redevelopment Faye, of Wednesfield, and Alex, of Chaseley Road, Etchinghill, travel hundreds of miles each week to train at Solihull and Stoke-on-Trent.

The pair also train in London once a fortnight.

Sue said: "They both attend the same school so they can train together. They hope to dance profes-sionally one day."

Lee is top with pressing engagement

Lee Smith, aged 40, from Rugeley, who set a new British bench press record at the West Midlands championships

A FATHER-of-two from Rugeley has shown he is a force to be reckoned with after winning the West Midlands Bench Press Championships.

Lee Smith, aged 40, of Lion Street, achieved his latest success at the championships held in Birmingham. Mental health nurse Mr Smith weighed in 95 kilos and bench pressed 182.5 kilos. He has been competing for around 23 years and has won the West Midlands championships around 20 times. Mr Smith's latest success qualifies him to compete in British championships in Northumberland next July which, from where he then hopes to go on to the world championships in Sweden.

He said: "It's fantastic. I used to be a power lifter but I broke my leg so I stopped and just continued doing bench pressing. I have my own gym and I train four days a week for two hour sessions."

Care home given warning

A CARE home in Hednesford has been told to do more to protect the welfare of its residents.

The Care Quality Commission has issued a formal warning to the owner of Hathaway House saying it must make improvements or face further action.

The warning follows an unannounced visit by inspectors to the home in Heather Valley on October 3.

The home, which opened in July 2011, caters for people with learning disabilities and currently has two people living there. It has space for six.

Bosses have stressed the enforcement action was "purely down to paperwork" and did not reflect the standard of care.

During the visit, inspectors found the owners needed to make improvements in relation to assessing and monitoring the quality of service provision.

Operating

Inspectors found systems in place to identify, assess and manage the risks to residents were not operating effectively. Each resident was supposed to have their own personal plan in case of an emergency evacuation but inspectors found these had not been written. Not all staff had received first aid training and weekly medication audits had also not taken place.

Andrea Gordon, deputy director of operations for the CQC, said: "The law says these are the standards that everyone should be able to expect. Providers have a duty to ensure they are compliant.

Home manager Elaine Ball said there was no question of people not being safe. She said: "We've put changes in place and our action plan has gone back to the CQC. We want them to come back in soon to see that we have already done everything they asked."

Hope for apprentice

Emma Keeling and hotel general manager Sue Holdway

A CANNOCK apprentice has been shortlisted for a top award and will visit the House of Commons to see if she has won. Emma Keeling of Bridge Street, Bridgtown, works at The Ramada Hotel, and is a finalist in the 2012 Hospitality Guild Apprenticeship Awards.

The 20-year-old was selected from entrants across the UK, and has been filmed at the hotel for the awards showing her at work as front of house supervisor.

Hotel general manager David Tucker said: "Emma is a very highly valued member of the team and has progressed extremely well particularly in the last 12 months. I expect her to have a very successful career within the industry."

The Hospitality Guild Apprenticeship Awards provide an opportunity to celebrate high achieving hospitality apprentices and the employers which support them. The ceremony takes place next Thursday, December 6.

Care home worker stole to fund her drugs habit

A CARE home worker stole cash and personal belongings from residents and staff to help fund her drug habit.

Gemma Davis was working at Lakeview Care Home in Stafford Road, Great Wyrley when she took wallets, purses, cash, a memory stick and toiletries in what was called "a significant breach of trust".

Staff became suspicious at an increasing number of missing items. Davis was arrested after CCTV was installed.

The 26-year-old, of Abbotts Place, Bloxwich, had worked at the home since 2007 but became addicted to cannabis earlier this year.

She pleaded guilty to seven theft charges at Cannock magistrates court and sobbed as the list was read.

Gemma Davis – drug habit

Suspicious

Giles Rowden, prosecuting, said: "She had stolen varying quantities of money from residents and items from members of staff. This is a significant breach of trust considering the circumstances involved."

The list included £40 in cash, a computer memory stick, a purse and its contents to the value of £40, a wallet containing bank cards, two more purses and two bottles of toiletries.

The court heard how Davis owed money for cannabis.

Stephen Sheldon, defending Davis, said: "She's the first to accept she has a serious drug problem. She realises these matters are very serious and there could be consequences for her."

The case was adjourned for three weeks for a probation service report to be compiled. Davis was granted unconditional bail until December 17.

Date set for application on 'boy racers' injunction

THE application for a High Court injunction to help control so-called boy racers in Cannock will be heard on December 6.

Staffordshire Police is hoping to alleviate the problem by using the order to disperse groups of young drivers.

The proposal is set to be heard at the High Court in Birmingham.

The racers have been accused of causing danger on the roads by speeding and driving without insurance.

There have been complaints of drivers in souped-up cars using the A5, towards the Linkway Retail Park, and nearby Eastern Way to its junction with Lichfield Road and speeding above the 50mph limit. They are said to be careering along two-mile stretches of road at high speeds.

Powers

The racers also often congregate around tthe Orbital, Eastern Way and Longford islands, disturbing nearby residents.

Commander of Cannock Chase District Local Policing Team, Ch Insp Carl Ratcliffe, previously said the drivers were "putting themselves and other road users at risk".

If the High Court injunction is granted, police will have greater powers and could see speeders fined or jailed for up to two years. It is likely to take a couple of months before the powers come into force.

The order could result in signs put up in problem areas telling motorists not to congregate in more than three cars, warning if they are caught they could face imprisonment.

Tartan-ic night in store

A CANNOCK businessman with Scottish ancestry is hosting one of the biggest St Andrew's Day parties in the West Midlands tomorrow night (Friday).

Scott Murray will be wearing his family tartan for the party at the Premier Suite in High Green. The entertainment includes Scottish band Celtica, a Rod Stewart tribute, highland dancers from Stirling, traditional Scottish pipers and a DJ.

There will be a three-course meal with haggis, tatties and neeps. Kilts and Scottish dress is welcomed.

Boost for rescue centre as festive fair is staged

A GOLF club and estate near Rugeley is staging a Christmas fair this weekend to raise much-needed cash for the Gentleshaw Wildlife Centre. It takes place at the Hawkesyard estate from 10am to 4.30pm on Sunday, December 2 and has been organised by businesswoman, Jill Bonney of Purpleluna, Hednesford.

Admission is £1. On offer will be tarot card readings, arts and crafts, nail art, handmade jewellery and face creams. Refreshments and a bar will be available. Call 07733 327009 for more details.

Schools in talks over becoming academies

FAILING primary schools across Staffordshire are in talks with government officials who want to take them out of county council control, it has emerged.

The Department for Education has approached schools in special measures to discuss severing ties with the local authority and becoming academies.

Ofsted rates 20 Staffordshire primaries as 'inadequate' and Education Secretary Michael Gove is demanding "performance improves rapidly and on a sustainable basis".

It would mean schools are given freedom from council control and allowed to set their own curriculum.

Just 10 out of 254 primary schools are academies, most of which decided to apply for the status after being rated 'outstanding' by inspectors.

Mr Gove said: "There is a wealth of evidence that shows the academy model is working. Unfortunately this transformative drive has not taken root in Staffordshire where too many schools continue to under-perform.

Barriers

"One of the main barriers to progress has been that the council has not actively pursued academy solutions for its under-performing schools.

"Department for Education officials are visiting a number of schools in special measures to pursue academy solutions.

"These visits are part of a discussion about the best way forward to ensure performance improves rapidly and on a sustainable basis."

Councillor Ian Parry said: "We welcome the move to academies, and would encourage schools to take this route. However, we are not in a position to force them."

Christmas party time

A DANCING competition is one of the attractions at a Cheslyn Hay club's Christmas party next week.

Hawkins Colliery Sports Club, in Coppice Lane, plays host to the event on Friday, December 7 from 7pm.

There will be prizes for all ages in the dancing competition. A raffle will also be held with donated prizes including a signed Wolves football, champagne and meals out.

Mince pies, hot pork baps and tombolas will also be available and there will be a draw for a Christmas hamper.

Entrance is £1, with children free and there will be a licensed bar until 11pm.

Bad Rats date

IRISH-influenced band The Bad Rats are playing at Woodys Bar in Hednesford on Saturday, December 8. Start time is 9pm with support from Jimmy and The Hound Dogs.

EATING OUT

Cross Guns now firing as Indian restaurant

Inside the Masala Lounge, the former Cross Guns pub at Wednesfield

Owner Maj Miah, right, Lal Miah and chef Lila Miah at the Masala Lounge

Masala Lounge, Lichfield Road, Wednesfield

I'VE seen the future. It's not egg-shaped, nor does it involve garlic bread. It is, however, healthy curries.

They've probably been around longer than I've cared to notice, but they certainly came to my attention at Wednesfield's newest Indian restaurant, the Masala Lounge.

Owned by Maj Miah, the man behind the nearby Dilraj and the Garam Masala in Cannock – both popular restaurants in their own right – the Masala Lounge sprang up from the remains of the Old Cross Guns pub in Lichfield Road.

The venture took longer than planned to complete, but Maj and certainly his customers – must be delighted at the transformation.

Expand

It's certainly spacious, and with booths fitted it gives the restaurant that more cosy, intimate feel. A total of 15 staff are employed at the 100-seater restaurant, which has the scope to expand. It's made a promising start, with diners more accustomed to travelling out of town enjoying the food on offer. We certainly did.

Not content with just poppadums as a starter, we were served chicken shashlik with paneer cooked in a masala sauce. For myself, this was followed by the deluxe mixed grill, taken from the restaurant's Tandoori Exclusives menu, all of which are low calories dishes, so you may never feel guilty about eating a curry again. For the record, it contained an assortment of tandoori chicken, lamb chops, chicken tikka, sheek kebab and king prawns and came with rice and Bombay potatoes.

The restaurant is unlicensed so diners bring in their own alcoholic drinks to accompany their meal.

The other half opted for the murgh makani, which compared more than favourably with ones she's tried elsewhere. If that was not enough, there was still room for desserts, with Turkish delight and a strawberry and vanilla sundae our preferences.

The Masala Lounge menu features fusion dishes and authentic curries alongside the traditional favourites, seafood specials and English options. It is open seven days a week from 5pm. Call 01902 865934 or visit wwwthemasalalounge.com

Rotary run attracts more than 240

Sew many Santas to take part in dash

RUNNERS will dress as Father Christmas this weekend for a Santa Dash through a village centre.

Penkridge Round Table is inviting people to run the half-mile route from Market Street on Sunday (December 2) at 11am. All runners must wear Santa suits which are available from Sew Many Things in Stone Cross for £5 with monies raised going towards local good causes.

Chris Roddie from Penkridge Round Table, said: "The run is just for fun. There aren't any medals or times. We just want people to have a laugh while raising money for local causes."

A FIELD of 240 runners took part in the annual Cannock Rotary Club 10k race.

Entries were slightly down on last year. However, more than £2,000 is expected to have been raised for charities.

Athletes ranged in age from 15 to 70 years with Jonathon Carter the first male home in 35.29 minutes.

The 2010 champion Sian Slade of Birchfield Ladies was the first female past the post in just over 39 minutes.

Sunday's race was the third organised by the Rotary Club and set off from Marquis Drive.

Lucky

Race co-ordinator Alan Rotchell said: "We're very pleased with the number of people who ran and we were lucky with the weather.

"We have had great support from local organisations such as Northgate Vehicle Hire, C H Shore Estates Ltd and others who sponsored the event. Around 40 volunteers marshalled the route."

by Tom Mason

Mr Rotchell said the established race was now on the official Birchfield Harriers calendar. "We hope to increase the number of entries next year," he added.

Rotary Club president President David Marklew handed out medals for all entrants and prizes to the winners.

Hours cut at village pub after catalogue of licence breaches

A VILLAGE pub has had its late night opening hours cut after Staffordshire police took action to tackle crime and disorder there.

Officers had been called to the Railway pub in Clay Street Penkridge, on numerous occasions due to a catalogue of licence breaches.

by Charlotte Lilley

These included the late-night supply of alcohol leading to violence, noise nuisance, holding unauthorised events and trading without a licensee.

As a result, at a South Staffs District Council hearing, it was agreed that drinks could only be served until 11pm from Monday to Thursday and until 11.30pm on Friday and Saturdays. It had previously opened as late as 1.30am.

Issues

Inspector Jed White, head of Staffordshire Police's Licensing Unit, said: "The significant reduction of opening hours at the Railway pub should go a long way to alleviating the issues there.

"However," he added. "Local residents can rest assured that we will be monitoring the situation very closely and will look to have the premise's licence revoked if problems persist."

Councillor Kath Perry, chairman of South Staffordshire Council's Licensing Committee said: "We work closely with the police on licensing issues and if there's a problem which needs to be dealt with we'll do it.

"We want to support our pub trade," she added. "But when problems arise, especially around under-age drinking or anti-social behaviour, we'll step in and take whatever actions we feel appropriate."

At a separate hearing, it was decided to remove Great Wyrley Football Club's designated premise supervisor and impose a series of conditions, including the installation of CCTV, following an application by police.

This followed several licence breaches including, among other things, an unauthorised 18th birthday party in which fire doors were jammed shut and complaints of two under-age teenagers consuming alcohol on the premises.

The pub and club were both given 21 days to appeal against the decisions.

Networking event aims to promote businesses

A NETWORKING event to promote businesses in Penkridge is due to take place in January next year.

Members of the Penkridge Business Association discussed plans to host the event for traders at their recent group meeting. If given the go-ahead, businesses will be able to promote themselves and gain support in their venture.

Chairman Anne Geoghegan said: "The idea for a networking event was discussed at our most recent meeting. We decided we wanted to do something for businesses in the village and came up with the idea.

"We want to help old and new businesses and promote them. If anyone needs help we want them to know we are here.

"We haven't put much thought into it yet but we hope traders will be able to talk with us and get help."

Festive flower demonstration

PENKRIDGE Flower Club will host a Christmas flower arranging demonstration on Sunday (December 2).

It will feature Sue Davies, from the National Association of Flower Arrangement Societies and begins at 2.30pm at the Peace Memorial Hall, Pinfold Lane. Tickets are £7 on 01785 712113.

Branching out for seasonal display

Jen Taylor, aged 22, from Penkridge, from the Red Lion pub, Bradley, which is decorating a tree for the festival

ORGANISERS of a Christmas tree festival in a village near Penkridge say it will be bigger and better than before.

More than 40 trees will be on display at Bradley Church from tomorrow (Friday) until Sunday (December 2).

Each tree has the theme of either a seasonal play, legend or pantomime. There will also be a special six foot Remembrance Tree for visitors to commemorate baptisms, weddings or the loss of a loved one.

Music forms a big part of the festival and includes a lively programme of local musicians performing every day in the church. Included in the programme will be acclaimed concert oboists Richard and Marcia Weigall performing on Sunday from 10am to 12pm. Visitors can also learn about the past history and present restoration work of St Mary & All Saints Church.

In the village hall each day there will be a wide range of seasonal stalls selling gifts, garlands and wreaths as well as local produce and light refreshments.

Admission is £3 per person, but free for children. All proceeds will go to Bradley Church.

A century of stallholders expected at annual fair

PENKRIDGE Victorian Christmas Market takes place tomorrow (Friday November 30) in the town centre.

The seasonal event will be held in market Street from 5-9pm and will include fire-eaters, stilt walkers, a fairground and more than 100 stallholders.

Anne Geoghegan, chairman of the business association, said: "Everyone will be in Victorian fancy dress so there will be a great atmosphere.

"Last year we had just under 6,000 people attend. This year we think there will be even more. It's a huge event and we're delighted and very proud of its success."

People can also buy costumes for the annual Santa Dash, which takes place on Sunday (December 2) and has been arranged by Penkridge District and Round Table.

Fifth festival of Christmas trees

PREPARATIONS are under way for the fifth Christmas Tree Festival at St Anne's Church in Burntwood.

Schools, businesses, charities and groups will decorate a tree to display between December 7 and 9.

Mince pies, tea and coffee will be served each day. Proceeds will go to the church and Edwards Trust.

Historian sheds light on village hero after appeal

A VILLAGE historian has shed light on a former Cheslyn Hay soldier following an appeal in The Chronicle.

In a letter on November 22, Andrew Woolhouse asked for information on the life of Pte John H Powell, who served with the 13th Parachute Battalion during World War II. He died in February 1945 after sustaining injuries during the Battle of the Bulge and is buried in Cheslyn Hay Cemetery.

The plea was made as Mr Woolhouse is looking to write a book on the Battalion and is trying to account for all those who gave their lives to pay tribute to them.

The wedding of Pte John Powell from Cheslyn Hay to Winnie Piatt in 1942

Account

Following the appeal, Trevor MacFarlane of the Cheslyn Hay & District Local History Society has passed on details about Pte Powell. From a Cheslyn Hay family, he joined the parachute regiment and married a local girl Winnie Piatt in 1942.

Pte Powell parachuted into France for the D-Day landings and was badly injured during the Battle of the Bulge in the Belgian Ardennes. He died from his wounds at Newcastle-upon-Tyne Hospital and was buried in Cheslyn Hay.

Trevor said: "Mr Woolhouse is delighted with the information we have given him and we were happy to help. The whole purpose of our group is to put people in touch with others and we have linked up people all around the world."

He added the research may even go towards a book on all those from the village who had lost their lives in conflict.

Correct ingredients yet Cinders failed to rise to the occasion

Cinderella, Birmingham Hippodrome

EVERYTHING was there, the usual high standard of the Birmingham Royal Ballet, superb music and delightful costumes but somehow at the Hippodrome performance of Cinderella I didn't have a ball.

I am sure the ballet purists loved it but there just seemed to be that little bit of magic missing. Billed as a Christmas treat and spoken off in similar terms as the wonderful Nutcracker, it just did not seem to be in the same league.

The familiar story was well told and the dancing highlights were many – especially from the Dancing Master (Mathias Dingman) who excelled.

The dainty Cinderella (Elisha Willis) and her Prince (Iain Mackay) could almost not be faulted, although he did have a rather awkward moment with one of the lifts. The two who stole the show were stepsisters Skinny (Samara Downs) and Dumpy (Carol-Anne Millar) who managed to dance brilliantly – even in a fat suit. Their continual spats were a delight to watch.

Cinderella will be at Birmingham Hippodrome until December 9.

Project managed Dylan songs well

Dylan Project, Dan Whitehouse, Robin 2, Bilston

THE Dylan Project is no ordinary tribute band. Steve Gibbons doesn't try to look like the iconic singer and, although there are times when he slips into sounding like him, the group essentially play Dylan's catalogue their own way.

Gibbons on guitar and vocals, bassist Dave Pegg, drummer Gerry Conway, keyboard player Phil Bond and guitarist PJ Wright have a wealth of experience from a lineage including Fairport Convention, Jethro Tull and Pentangle.

They cherry-picked songs from Dylan's Blonde On Blonde with Sad Eyed Lady of the Lowlands, given an almost comic ballad style with a Gallic undertone. This moved smoothly into I Want You given an upbeat skiffle treatment. The full sound of the band was let loose for Can You Please Crawl Out Your Window with more than a smattering of Latin melodies.

Supporting the Project and on his home turf was Wolverhampton's Dan Whitehouse, who is maturing into an impressive singer/songwriter.

Catch Dan at the Birmingham Conservatoire Recital Hall on December 15 with a full backing band. Visit www.dan-whitehouse.com

Few words but all the right moves

Some Like It Hip Hop, Wolverhampton Grand

FUNKY and exciting, dance group ZooNation's mix of B-boying, rap, street and break dancing appeals to a younger audience but there is plenty for all to enjoy.

Set in a fictional city ruled over by a tyrant, Governor Okeke (Duwane Taylor), where women are subdued and segregated, this is a tale of liberation through knowledge and love that leads to the tyrant realising the error of his ways. Despite the dystopian setting, there is a lot of comedy and romance.

The cast were very impressive and though the dialogue was limited, they were more than able to communicate through their actions. The quality and athleticism of the dance really stood out as dancers back flipped and vaulted across the stage.

In particular Ross Sands and Robert Anker both put in superb performances performing all manner of gravity defying acrobatics.

The main roles of Jo-Jo Jameson (Sarah Richards) and David Davidson (Minica Besson), the cross-dressing women who infiltrate the world of men, represent a role reversal of the movie Some Like it Hot, which this production draws upon. Both female performers put in a superb performance. In the main male role Denny Harwood was also noteworthy.

Even though this is predominantly about dance, it wouldn't be anything without its original musical from DJ Walde, supported by the amazing singers Sheree Dubois, Rohan Pinnock-Hamilton, Sherona Knight, Elliotte Williams-N'Dure and Ross Green. They all lend their amazing talents to the mix of soul and hip hop that is the backbone of this play.

The audience were also treated to a performance of street dance by 22 Wolverhampton school children, who had been trained by ZooNation's Teneisha Bonner, to dance along to Maroon 5's, Move Like Jagger. The group from 12 schools had the audience out of their seats and cheering along.

Chance to join in Piaf tribute

TALENTED singers from Cannock are being offered the chance to take part in a concert paying homage to the life and music of French singer Edith Piaf.

The large-scale production of 'Piaf – The Concert', based on the original script by Jane Lapotaire, will open at the prestigious Town Hall in Birmingham on February 10.

But producer Matthew Jones is still looking for members aged 16 or above to join his choir and perform alongside EastEnders star June Brown, Eva Stanley-Jones, Peter Straker, Denise Green and The Matthew Jones Orchestra.

Mr Jones said he was "a passionate believer that anybody can learn to sing" and welcomed entrants of all abilities. It comes 50 years after millions of adoring fans thronged the streets of Paris for the singer's state funeral.

This new production by Gwenda Hughes, who has directed 25 Birmingham Rep shows, is aimed at families and is described as a traditional production true to The Wind In The Willows people have known and loved since childhood.

A cast of 16 actor-musicians will bring a host of wonderful characters to life. Playing Toad is Matthew Douglas, a graduate of the University Of Birmingham, who recently starred in The Rep's Travesties and The Importance Of Being Earnest.

Wind In The Willows opened last night (Wednesday) and continues until January 19.

Tickets range from £9 to £28, see www.birmingham-rep.co.uk or call the box office on 0121 236 4455.

Michael Jackson: Bad 25
BBC2, 9.45pm

It's hard to believe that it's over three years ago already that the King of Pop, Michael Jackson, passed away. It's even harder to believe that it's a quarter of a century since he released his seminal album, Bad, which spawned five consecutive US number one singles. As a celebration of this latter milestone, Spike Lee directs this insightful documentary which examines the album and its impact. He speaks to those involved in the creation of the album, as well as celebrity fans including Martin Scorsese, Walter Yetnikoff and Kanye West.

Katherine Jenkins

Steppin' Out with Katherine Jenkins ITV1, 9pm

We're told this special one-off featuring the Welsh mezzo-soprano is going to be a showcase of 'spectacular song and dance routines in an evening of glitz and glamour.' Apparently, its producers are stopping at nothing to recreate the old-style, 1940s Hollywood look, with a series of guests they hope will be able to emulate the era. Among those taking part are award-winning quartet Il Divo, girl band Stooshe, Britain's Got Talent finalists Only Boys Aloud and former Strictly Come Dancing champion Tom Chambers.

Pick of the Week

Variety is still proving to be the spice of life

The mother of all entertainment shows is here once again, and as usual it features many different performers, each doing their thing in front of a packed audience.

If variety is the spice of your life, then this most spectacular of extravaganzas is likely to pep up Monday night's viewing no end with two-and-a-half hours of the stuff of which showbiz legends are made.

Host David Walliams welcomes our own celebrity staples Alan Carr, Amanda Holden, Bradley Walsh, Des O'Connor, Ronnie Corbett and Bruce Forsyth, along with global superstars Alicia Keys, Andrea Bocelli, Kylie Minogue, Neil Diamond, One Direction (calm yourselves girls), Placido Domingo and Rod Stewart.

And if that's not enough to get you tuning in, how about Girls Aloud, Bill Bailey, Katherine Jenkins, Robbie Williams and the cast of West End hits Matilda and The Bodyguard?

However, the act everyone wants to see is Ashleigh and Pudsey who, of course, won their spot on the show by winning this year's Britain's Got Talent.

If you are a fan of BGT, look out for the return of previous finalists Diversity, Spelbound, Stavros Flatley and Paul Potts.

Walliams is rather thrilled to be hosting this year's event. "It is a show that I have watched every year from a very young age, and never dreamed I would be one day be a part of it," he enthuses.

Those lucky enough to have been backstage at one of these bashes will know how much time and effort goes into its preparation.

In 1996, one fresh-faced journalist spent seven hours waiting back stage during the dress rehearsal for the celebrities to turn up for a chat.

You were allowed to go to the loo of course, but hanging around at the back of the Dominion Theatre and watching host Bob Monkhouse was a no-no. However, by the time the likes of Tom Jones, the much-missed Jill Dando and Robson and Jerome turned up, all those hours of waiting paid off.

Now, 16 years on, the show is celebrating its 100th birthday, so the tension backstage will be greater than ever as the talent and the tech team give 110 per cent to ensure the night goes off without a hitch.

Most of the acts on this year's show will have rehearsed their act to death to ensure everything runs smoothly.

Just a pity Dallas veteran Larry Hagman didn't try a little harder during a song at his Royal Variety in 1980. Having forgotten the words, he hummed along and then stopped the orchestra. "Well, I blew it," he grinned. "Well, there you go."

It scarcely mattered. Even the Queen was curious to find out who shot his beloved alter ego JR.

Last year Barry Manilow had problems with a backing track, but by the time the final show was screened for TV viewers, any problems had been edited out.

With a little luck, any wrinkles in this year's bash will be ironed out at the dress rehearsal. Let's hope everything is all right on the night.

David Walliams hosts The Royal Variety Performance, Monday, ITV1, 7.30pm

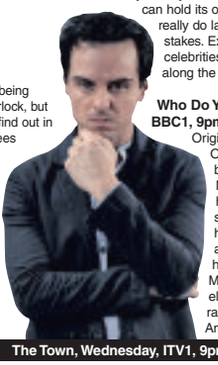
Best of the Rest

Monday
Inside Claridge's
BBC2, 9pm
It's been the subject of many a film, is a home-from-home for the royals, and the celebs simply aren't A-list enough if they're not frequenting the luxurious high-ceilinged venue, but Claridges is finally opening its door to we mere mortals – well, in the form of a fly-on-the-wall documentary at least. This is the first time anything like this has been done in the hotel's 200-year history, but it is a rather fitting way to mark the milestone birthday. Claridges' regal associations were confirmed as far back as 1860, and since then, it has become known as an 'extension to Buckingham Palace.' But what of the elite who regularly stay at the hotel? Director Jane Treays lets us in on their secrets…

Tuesday
Murder Files: The Haircut Killer
Channel 5, 8pm
Channel 5 has broadcast more than its fair share of crime documentaries over the years, but few have been as upsetting as this one. It focuses on the story of Danilo Restivo, dubbed 'The Haircut Killer,' because of his fetish for cutting women's hair – as well as their throats. In June 2011, he was convicted of the murder of Heather Barnett, who lived in Bournemouth with her two children – sadly it was Heather's offspring who discovered their mother's body when they returned home from school. Daughter Caitlin describes the horror she and her brother were confronted with, while Heather's sister Denise also discusses the incriminating evidence found at the scene.

Last Tango in Halifax
BBC1, 9pm
Although Celia and Alan are clearly crazy about each other and desperate to tie the knot so they can spend the rest of their lives together, even they have arguments from time to time. It seems a major confrontation could be brewing when they not only fall out about their differing political views, they also disagree about where their marriage should take place. Meanwhile, Gillian makes a nuisance of herself by telling John he needs to stick up for himself more – but when he appears on Caroline's doorstep announcing he's moving back in, she isn't best pleased.

Wednesday
The Town
ITV1, 9pm
Andrew Scott is probably best known for being Moriarty to Benedict Cumberbatch's Sherlock, but can he outwit Miss Marple? Maybe we'll find out in this promising three-part drama, which sees Scott starring alongside Julia McKenzie and Martin Clunes. It follows Mark (Scott), an architect who returns to his hometown in the wake of a family tragedy, only to find that a lot has changed while he's been gone. If it makes him feel any better, he's not the only one who's struggling. Hard-drinking local mayor Len (Clunes) is lurching from one PR disaster to another – and what exactly is linking enigmatic copper Inspector Franks (Douglas Hodge) to Mark's family?



The Town, Wednesday, ITV1, 9pm

Thursday
Jamie & Jimmy's Food Fight Club
Channel 4, 9pm
Let's face it, we Brits don't have the best reputation when it comes to culinary expertise. But old pals Jamie Oliver and Jimmy Doherty are determined to change all that via this new series. Each week, they will focus on a different type of food, then travel the UK in search of the best examples. But it's after that that the fun really begins. Jamie and Jimmy will then set off for the European mainland to do battle with their counterparts in France, Germany or Italy to discover whether British nosh can hold its own abroad – or whether we really do lag behind in the flavour stakes. Expect to see some A-list celebrities and audience participation along the way too.

Who Do You Think You Are?
BBC1, 9pm
Originally set to be broadcast on October 24, but pushed back because of the start of Michael Palin's Brazil series, here's a chance at last to see John Bishop delving into his family's past. Although his accent gives away the fact he was born and bred on Merseyside, his family ties lie elsewhere in a variety of rather colourful characters. Among them are an army band member, a lay vicar and a Crimean War fighter. Bishop also travels to Portsmouth Historic Dockyard to find out what may have happened to one of his relatives who served in the Navy during the Victorian era.

Friday
Peter Kay – In Conversation
Channel 4, 9pm
There was a time when the words 'garlic bread' and 'cheesecake' would not bring a smile to the face, but Peter Kay changed all that. Within a few years, the roly-poly funnyman went from being a warm-up act for Michael Parkinson's chat show to being a main attraction in front of the camera. In this new one-off show, Kay chats to Danny Baker about his phenomenally successful career. His last UK tour entered the Guinness Book of Records as the biggest stand-up comedy tour in the world, but what is it that makes him tick? Here he reveals for the first time the creative process behind his work, giving a rare insight into his TV series and live comedy.

The Graham Norton Show
BBC1, 10.35pm
Jessica Ennis may have the sort of abs and figure usually reserved for comic books, but her achievement at London 2012 was no fantasy. So expect the audience to go wild this week as the pride of Sheffield, and indeed the whole of the UK, drops into the studio for a chat. Daniel Radcliffe might look bashful in her presence, but he hasn't had a bad year either. Okay, the Harry Potter saga may now be consigned to history, but he proved he still had plenty of commercial clout when The Woman in Black grossed $127million worldwide.

First time buyers can prepare for the future

Family-sized homes are available at Walton Homes' Millfields development

HOUSEBUILDER Walton Homes reports that first time buyers in the West Midlands are bucking national trends of purchasing smaller properties as their first home and instead buying larger family-sized houses.

These latest trends have been reported at a number of Walton Homes' sites but in particular at its Millfields development on Brookside Way in Tamworth where 60 per cent of those homes sold have been purchased by first time buyers.

Millfields is one of Walton's more luxury developments in the West Midlands, boasting a range of three and four bedroom properties.

Helen Rollason, Walton Homes sales manager said: "Typically, you expect first time buyers to go for smaller homes, commonly with two bedrooms, and then after around four years homeowners will usually think about moving up the property ladder into a larger home which can accommodate a family or provide extra living space.

"At Millfields we expected to see the houses sold to those moving into their second or third home but this hasn't been the case. Instead, trends suggest that Millfields is actually proving more popular with couples buying their first home and planning for the future, rather than with second steppers."

In a bid to help househunters purchase a new home by the end of this year, Walton Homes will pay the reservation fee and legal fees on all reservations made on properties at Millfields between now and 31st December 2012 – meaning househunters can secure their preferred house at the development but they don't have to make any payments in the run-up to Christmas.

Millfields is a traditionally-styled development comprising nine detached homes and two bungalows. Three bedroom houses are available from £189,950 and the four-bed executive homes range in price from £219,950 up to £269,950.

The new homes at Millfields come with luxury fixtures and fittings. All properties include a built garage or allocated parking space

Millfields is situated in an ideal location close to local amenities and benefits from its position close to the A5. To book a viewing contact the sales team on 01827 259 339. The show home and marketing suite is open from 11am – 5pm Thursday to Monday inclusive of the weekends.

New Skoda Rapid is practical and a great performer

Look hard at the front of the new Skoda Rapid and what does it remind you of?

Is it a simply styled, modern looking car or a lucky four-leafed clover, thanks to the way the head and fog lights are positioned?

If you're a car buyer, it may be the first description; if a designer of the newcomer from the Czech Republic, it will be the second.

You may conclude from this divide that car designers live on another planet (the rear lights are inspired by the Czech glass industry, apparently), but you can't doubt the passion that went into shaping this mid-price family car.

The Rapid is designed (very thoroughly) to sit above the smaller Fabia and below the larger Octavia, a car that's going to grow in size and stature when the next one arrives some time in 2013.

It majors on practicality, with enough room in the rear for adults to feel comfortable and a simply huge boot hidden nicely in a shape that looks somewhere between practical hatch and posher saloon at the back.

By Ian Donaldson

Underneath are familiar bits of suspension from other cars in the VW Group and under the bonnet you'll discover a choice of diesel and petrol engines also shared with cars bearing VW, Seat and Audi badges.

The result of this hidden commonality is twofold; it means the use of mechanical bits built in huge numbers and therefore honed for business and, thanks to economies of scale, relatively inexpensive to make.

That means, in Skoda's case perhaps especially, that you get a lot of car for your money. The new Rapid starts at £12,900 but you fancy most buyers will find the near £1,000 needed to climb to SE grade, bringing with it alloy wheels, air conditioning and trip computer missing from the bargain basement S version.

That means the £14,650, 1.2 litre petrol engined car tested here, third from bottom in a price range that levels off with the £17,850 of the 1.6 diesel Elegance model, does not feel remotely like a car bought on price alone.

One Skoda person at the launch of the car (definitely not a designer) said customers 'have had enough of this shiny, bling, bling stuff.' The Rapid is low on bling but high on a feeling, shared across the VW Group cars, that solid quality matters most for long-term satisfaction.

If the outside of the Rapid is crisp and modern in a low-key way, the interior is simple, with obvious attention to detail, easily read instruments but not a bit of bling to be seen. You may well think that's a good thing.

Easy

A much dearer diesel model tried before the petrol powered car tested here certainly made for an easy drive, with fewer gear changes and a creditable 64mpg on the trip computer at journey's end.

The smaller petrol engine tested here needed more revs and returned 47mpg (and promised 114mph and 0-62mph in 11.2 seconds) but still felt a much bigger unit than the spec sheet indicated. Sweet and willing around town, it pulled this largish car along the motorway without breaking sweat.

The diesel rode the side road ripples better than the lighter petrol model, but not enough to matter, while the petrol engined version tackled corners with a bit more enthusiasm.

The new Skoda Rapid. Prices range from £12,900 to £17,850

Standard spec on the SE here includes the air con and alloys already mentioned, along with heated door mirrors, electric front windows and height-adjustable driver's seat.

And every Rapid shows one design touch: a plastic ice scraper hidden in the fuel filler flap. Practical as well as clever.

Jaguar produce estate of elegance

Boot liners, roof rack and cycle rack all feature on the Jaguar XF estate

The practical Sportsbrake's interior, plus a range of stylish accessories

IF there's one thing prospective Jaguar buyers have been missing, it's an estate car.

A traditional load-lugger has been conspicuously absent from the firm's range, and an omission its rivals have capitalised upon for many years.

Given the recent change of ownership from Ford to Tata and the slew of new or revised products that have come from both Jaguar and Land Rover in recent years – both brands are under the same roof – you could excuse the firm for being a little busy.

The patience of those prospective buyers has finally been rewarded, as early 2012 saw Jaguar unveil its long awaited XF estate car – the Sportbrake.

By Iain Dooley

For a company with apparently minimal experience making estate cars, the end product is thoughtfully constructed and styled.

Looks-wise, the XF wagon's profile is elegant yet functional, while there's never any impression that the load-lugging bit is merely window dressing.

On paper the XF Sportbrake promises to be versatile and practical.

Boasting a near-flat-fold rear seat mechanism including through-load flap and 60-40 fold split, total volume is a competitive 1,675 litres.

Headroom

Factor in some extra space below the boot floor, a fraction more rear headroom, plus a host of options to make life easy – dividers, boot liners, roof racks and boxes, tow bar, cycle racks, powered tailgate – and it's clear that Jaguar is keen to tempt buyers away from established cars from Mercedes, BMW and Audi.

With everything save the rear doors new from the B-pillar back to the uncluttered tailgate, the XF Sportbrake is a bold statement of intent from Jaguar considering that the car will be targeted at only the European market for the foreseeable future.

Unlike the saloon and SUV-centric American and Asian markets, European buyers have a soft spot for estates.

And they also like diesel engines, which is why this XF is diesel-only.

For the cost – and tax-conscious buyers, there's a 2.2-litre four-cylinder unit in 163 and 200 horsepower trim, plus Jaguar's 3.0-litre V6 unit offered in 240 and 275 horsepower trim.

Predictably the smaller engine will appeal to company car drivers and the latter to private buyers, and there's a noticeable uplift in driver appeal if you go for the V6. Smooth, refined and plenty quick enough in the real world, it's an engine that suits the car's laidback approach to performance.

Of course, the bean counters will prefer the 2.2-litre unit. Although it uses the same eight-speed auto gearbox as the V6, this is a car that doesn't like to be rushed and is more at home being driven at a relaxed pace.

That said, both cars gain self-levelling rear suspension to ensure a safe and level attitude regardless of what's in the back and how enthusiastic you are at the wheel, while the optional Adaptive Dynamics system boasts computer-controlled dampers to further reduce pitch and roll when on the move – something the keen drivers will no doubt welcome.

With all this focus on the XF's rear, it's easy to forget designer Ian Callum's 2012 revisions – lights, grille, bumpers – that do much to ensure the car maintains its stylistic edge over its more fussy and distinctly rivals.

Popular

And although decidedly minimalist by current standards, the few subtle changes made to the cabin's switchgear and trim options have also added a welcome new layer of sophistication.

A popular car in saloon guise since its introduction, this Sportbrake variant is proof that Jaguar's design and engineering talent isn't restricted to saloons and sports cars.

This car's thoughtful and fuss-free exterior is matched by a practical interior, plus a range of useful and stylish accessories.

That the Sportbrake retains the driving appeal of its saloon cousin is the icing on the cake, and further illustrates the company's no-compromise approach to delivering a car designed to appeal to the head and the heart in equal measure.

Oh Mii! Customised Seat city car is proving to be a winner

CORNWALL-based dealership Dales Seat has created a special version of the Mii city car that has proved so popular it is available to special order.

The Mii 'Miinx' is based on the Mii Sport with the 1.0-litre 75PS engine as standard, but adds an eye-catching pink gloss vinyl wrap matched to tinted lights for a highly individualised look.

Dales Seat then took to Twitter to come up with a name and although 'Miinky' found favour, 'Miinx' was eventually settled upon.

"One thing's for sure – the Miinx is a car that always provokes a strong reaction, good or bad," says sales manager Tom Rawlings.

"We've been absolutely overwhelmed by the response to the special edition since we launched it. From the day we first parked it outside our showroom, people have made a point of coming in to tell us what they think.

"The car's also divided opinion on Twitter. I tweeted a photo and within minutes hundreds of people were commenting about it."

Such is the interest that Dales Seat is taking orders, with a recommended price of £11,500.

Dales also plans to give £100 to the Breakthrough Breast Cancer charity for every car sold.

The Miinx gets all the standard equipment on a regular Mii Sport, including alloy wheels, sports suspension and air conditioning, plus the Seat Portable System as standard.

Pretty in pink – the Dales dealership Seat Mii 'Miinx' could be a winner for Breakthrough Breast Cancer

Advance all areas with the new Lexus

Groundbreaking upholstery and a touchpad navigation system, just two of the additions to the Lexus

LEXUS has introduced a high-specification Advance model to the CT200h range, bringing additional equipment and impressive value.

The Advance slots into the CT 200h line-up just above the regular SE grade model and brings with it a new integrated satellite navigation system, cruise control, rain-sensing wipers, a folding function for the electrically adjustable door mirrors, reversing camera, auto-dimming rear-view mirror with integrated parking monitor and metallic paint.

Despite the extra equipment, its on-the-road price is just an additional £500 compared to the SE, at £24,495.

Touchpad

The Advance also introduces Tahara, a supple and durable new upholstery that is an attractive alternative to leather. It weighs half as much as leather and is less harmful to the environment to make, generating 65 per cent less CO2 and no potentially damaging volatile organic compounds (VOCs).

The new model also introduces the MoveOn navigation system, which can be operated using a touchpad integrated in the centre console .

MoveOn also enables access to Live information services, using a 3G connection to a sim card that is built into the system, avoiding the need for a mobile phone link.

Customers enjoy free access for the first year to the Live services, which include TomTom Local Search, weather forecast, mobile speed cameras and HD traffic data. Thereafter an annual subscription is payable.

The Lexus CT200h Advance is available to order now with a price tag of £24,495, with first deliveries to customers before the end of 2012.

Changes to speeding laws could soon be on the way

Caught on camera – driving at speeds over 90 mph can lead to an appearance before magistrates

PLANS have been announced by the Government to raise speed limits for HGVs, allowing them to potentially travel at 45mph or even 50mph on faster roads where the current limit is just 40mph.

While the financial and time-saving benefits are obvious, the cycling lobbies are, perhaps understandably, unhappy, suggesting that the change will result in more injuries and deaths.

Combine that with the mooted proposal to adopt EU legislation of an automatic assumption of responsibility of fault with the driver where there is a collision with a bicycle and a larger vehicle, and you have a recipe for disaster.Commit a motoring offence at the most serious end of the scale, such as death by dangerous driving, and it is treated, quite rightly, as a severe criminal offence and will be dealt with as such.

Yet things such as speeding, running a red light or even something as potentially trivial as performing an illegal U-turn will net you three points and a fine, all of which effectively happens outside of the criminal justice system.

But there also exists a middle ground, where the upper end of the motoring offences scale starts to blur into the criminal system.

Get caught speeding above 90mph and rather than getting a fixed penalty the prosecuting constabulary can choose to send you to the magistrate.

You will have to make your case and while circumstances can be offered, you are at the mercy of the magistrate's discretion. Get banned, even for days rather than weeks, and the effect on your life can be dramatic.

If the Government's message is that speeding is wrong and dangerous, then we should be encouraged to drive to the best of our ability, not simply be punished for failing to do so.

A year's offence-free motoring could be rewarded by 'positive' points on your driving licence, and with backing from the industry that could net you a discount on your insurance premiums, or perhaps even an upgraded driving licence to reflect five or 10 years' worth of trouble-free motoring.

Has the cost of maintaining your car become more and more of a financial strain?.....

Be clear on how to tackle the fog

Keep your distance and brake earlier than usual

THE winter months are often hard work for motorists as they face heavy rain, ice and that other nuisance – fog.

Britain's top advanced driver, Peter Rodger advises the following for driving safely through fog.

IAM chief examiner Peter Rodger said: "Fog is one of the most difficult conditions to drive in. Ensure you are prepared so that you can carry out your journey safely, and allow lots of extra time for the trip."

He offers tips for driving in the fog:

- Before setting off, clean your windows and windscreen and ensure all your lights are working.
- When you're ready to leave, switch on the dipped headlights. Use front and rear fog lights if visibility is less than 100 metres, but don't forget to switch them off when visibility improves – leaving fog lights on when headlights would be adequate is an offence.
- Use your windscreen wipers on an intermittent setting to clear moisture.
- Switch the heater or air conditioning on and leave it running to keep the inside of the glass clear.
- Slow down and keep enough distance between yourself and the vehicle in front. Make sure you can stop safely within the distance you can see clearly.
- Fog is not the same density all the time – it may get thicker, slow down if it does.
- Brake gently but earlier than usual so your brake lights warn drivers behind.
- Be aware that other vehicles may be travelling without their lights on, so extra care and attention is needed. At junctions, wind the window down and listen for traffic.
- Straining to see through thick fog will quickly make you tired – take regular breaks.
- Take high-viz clothing in case you have to leave the car.

Rodger said: "Don't underestimate the effect fog has on your visibility. Adjusting your driving to the weather conditions will help you to become a safer and more confident driver through the winter months."

To help drivers stay safe this winter, the IAM has launched a winter driving campaign.

This includes a dedicated website, drivingadvice.org.uk, with traffic updates, weather forecasts and tips on how to drive safely in winter.

Tips cover rain, snow, ice, fog and wind – everything you can expect in a typically unpredictable British winter.

Stay safe and, if you can, it is sensible to check the weather report before you travel.

When visibility is so poor watch your speed

Suzuki's cold weather tyre programme puts safety first at a potentially dangerous time on the roads

Suzuki's winter tyres deal tackles the cold conditions

RAIN, snow and sub-zero conditions make winter the most hazardous time of year on the road.

Suzuki GB PLC is keen to ensure drivers are well-equipped to tackle the worst the weather can throw at them by offering a great value winter tyre promotion with prices on average 10 per cent lower than last winter and with storage facility now available.

By fitting cold weather tyres to their vehicle, Suzuki owners can increase safety just when they need it most. Michael Le-Flay, Suzuki aftersales marketing manager, explained: "Many people are unaware of the fact that when temperatures drop below 7°C, the rubber in standard tyres becomes harder and less flexible, which affects braking and cornering performance.

"It doesn't matter how many electronic aids your car may have, the quality of its tyres is critical. The compound used for cold weather tyres, and their tread design are tailored to cope with adverse conditions, so that the best levels of car control can be maintained.

Fitting cold weather tyres can also be an investment as motorists travelling an average annual mileage could get two or three years use from a set. Switching over tyres for the winter months can also mean the difference in reaching a destination safely rather than having to postpone the journey, or at worst, having to abandon the car – a common sight on the roads if snow arrives.

Suzuki has quality tyres available for all current models; for convenience, the cold weather tyre programme consists of a ready to fit wheel and tyre set and, taking Alto as an example, are now available at just £99 each including VAT with a full set of wheel trims available from £33 including VAT.

To help customers further, Suzuki is now offering an annual storage facility across its dealer network for a recommended retail price of £49.99 which includes a wheel / tyre inspection and wheel balance of winter and summer tyres.

For a recommended retail price of £99.99, customers also have the option of a front and rear brake inspection, safety checking and cleaning of their wheels and tyres and then storage by Suzuki GB PLC in Milton Keynes.

Don't slip up when driving in the rain

HEAVY rain seems to be a frequent bugbear and road safety charity the IAM is offering this advice to drivers.

Before you set off, set your heater controls – rain makes the windows mist up in seconds. You don't want to be fiddling with controls when you should be concentrating on the road.

Slow down. In the rain your stopping distance should be at least doubled. Giving yourself more space helps you to avoid spray, especially when following a large vehicle.

Keep your distance when the roads are so wet to avoid an accident

Lights

Keep your eyes on the road ahead and plan your driving so that you can brake, accelerate and steer smoothly – harsh manoeuvres will unbalance the car.

Strong winds can also unsettle your car and even change your direction of travel. Grip your steering wheel firmly and be aware of the effects of the elements on other road users, particularly motorcyclists and flat-sided vehicles.

If you have cruise control, avoid using it on wet roads – it may create problems if you start to aquaplane.

See and be seen. Put your lights on. As a rule of thumb, whenever you need to use your wipers you should also turn your headlights on, and before overtaking put your wipers on their fastest setting. In cases of severe flooding, you should reconsider making the journey at all. If it is unavoidable, and you have to drive through deep water, the IAM recommends drivers take the following precautions:

Drive on the highest section of the road and don't set off if a vehicle is approaching you

Leave time and space to avoid swamping other cars and pedestrians

If you can't see where you are going to come out of the water, such as when approaching flooding on a bend, think twice about starting to drive into it

In deep water never take your foot off the accelerator, as this could allow water to travel up the exhaust pipe

Once you're out of the water, dry the brakes before you need them. The best way is to lightly apply the brake as you drive along for a few seconds, after checking nothing is following you too closely. IAM chief examiner Peter Rodger Rodger said: "A suddenly very wet road surface increases the chances of slipping when braking or steering, which is a problem not just for motorists, but cyclists and motorcyclists too.

"When driving in wet conditions remember that stopping distances will increase, and visibility will be reduced. Drop your speed and give yourself more time to slow down."

I never believed you would leave so soon, your illness was cruel from the start, the pain that is left with my Family and I has torn a hole in my heart.

First my Mother, forever my angel, you earned your wings long before you departed.

Love and miss you Mom, forever in our hearts and minds.

Leaders hit five and go six points clear at top

Cannock 1 Beeston 5

RUTHLESS leaders Beeston put Cannock firsts to the sword in the Men's Hockey League Premier Divivison.

Cannock failed to find form shown in beating second-placed Canterbury last weekend. Five scorers found the target for Beeston after Stuart Pilgrim's eighth-minute goal opening the floodgates. Stephen Lawrence, Dan Webster and Team GB's Ali Wilson added goals to make it 4-0 before Dan Coultas pulled one back for Cannock with two minutes left.

Beeston's Tim Whiteman swept home with the last stroke to put Beeston six points clear. Cannock are third but the gap to the top has widened.

Cannock Hockey Club

Cannock Stags 3
Beeston Swarm 3

Honours were shared in a double-header.

Cannock were two down but before half-time led with Chris Hill, Ben Edge and Jack Wells goals.

Beeston got a late goal.

Cannock 7 Harbourne 1

Cannock seconds took their ninth consecutive league win and are six points clear at the top of the table.

Nottingham University 0
Cannock 3

Cannock thirds overcame good defence as they grew into the game and chances for both sides increased.

Cannock led with possibly their best goal of the season. Wilkes picked the ball up at left half and converted after one-twos with Watkins, Parker and Bloomer.

Hyde got his fifth of the season to make it 2-0.

Cannock composed themselves after a scrappy period and could have looked to Jecketts, picked for the England under-16 training squad, to learn possession.

Bloomer got a third from a tight angle after good work by Parker and a lively Watkins. With Beeston and Loughborough winning, three sides are in for the title with three points between them. Cannock face Beeston at the Morris Ground this weekend.

Cannock 6
Rugby & East Warwicks 0

After two successive draws the fourths' started brightly as Louie Morris, another selected for the England squad, scored first.

Cannock peppered the keeper and posts with shots until Jack Myatt pounced to steer the ball home.

Lawrence Perry scored a powerful reverse strike and Morris beat down a lifted ball for his second and Cannock's fourth.

Rugby's keeper was inspired but could do little about Andy Hodgetts' goal from a penalty corner and the fine passing move completing a Morris hat-trick.

Shrewsbury 1 Cannock 3

Title hopefuls Cannock fifths came from behind to beat Shrewsbury's fourths.

Shrewsbury, previously unbeaten at home this season, led through Jonathan Green after a well worked penalty corner.

Cannock levelled and added two more goals.

Lichfield 0 Cannock Futures 2

Cannock's passing game and speed saw 90 per cent of the match in the home half.

Despite the possession, Cannock only beat the keeper once in the first half through Mark Cotterill in the first 10 minutes.

In the last 10 minutes Alex Kingston got on the end of a Jamie Greenwood shot and diverted it.

Cannock Over 40s Masters 14
Rugeley Over 40s Masters 9

After a bye in the first round Cannock, last year's semi-finalists, swept past Rugeley in the English Hockey Masters Cup.

A fourth minute roofed shot from Chris Mayer was followed by Andy Humphries, Jamie Roberts and Chris Roberts goals to make it four at half-time.

In the second half Chris Roberts struck four timesand Raff Moscatello hit a hat-trick. Humphries and Jamie Roberts scored again and Richard Artist scored.

Boss Wrex Pics' hopes in trophy

Wrexham 5 Rushall Olympic 0

PICS left a wet Racecourse Ground with their heads held high despite a five-goal FA Trophy reversal at the hands of former Football League side Wrexham.

Two early first-half goals and a red card on the hour mark took their toll on the visitors.

The Dragons claimed the crucial opening goal on 14 minutes through player/manager Andy Morrell, and the former Coventry and Blackpool man added a second within two minutes.

Pics' Hakeem Islam was sent off for two bookings in quick succession before Adrian Cieslewicz made it three, Morrell claimed a hat-trick and Declan Walker got the fifth.

Jamie's dedication pays off in ring

GREAT WYRLEY ABC's Jamie Mansell put disappointment in Stoke behind him for a three-round unanimous decision over Simon McDonagh (Wednesbury ABC) at the Saddlers Club, Walsall.

In his third fight in as many weeks,he put in a performance that dedication in the gym warranted.

He walked down McDonagh from the bell and didn't take his foot off the gas as a good right hook to the body capped a dominant first round.

Mansell kept up the good work in the second as McDonagh struggled to keep up, the Wyrley man scoring repeatedly with good one-twos.

He bossed the last round with McDonagh doing well to see it through to the final bell.

Coach Pete Hickenbottom said he thinks Jamie will go from strength to strength. He had all the tools to be a good boxer but had to start thinking and believing in himself.

Mansell received his trophy from IBF Inter-Continental Champion Martin Gethin of Walsall.

He will be boxing again on December 7 at Donnington,Telford.

Campaign to get into golf was big draw

MORE THAN 1,400 people took the chance to get into golf during the summer months in Staffordshire.

Clubs are making it easier for would-be golfers to give the sport a try as schemes run under the umbrella of the Staffordshire County Golf Partnership (CGP) bring together the county union, ladies association and PGA professionals.

The national Get into Golf campaign sees clubs offer a path to future membership.

County development officer Sean Hammill and area PGA professionals-backed the Golf Foundation in building links with schools, universities and colleges and providing chances for older adults.

Efforts were supported by clubs staging open days and taster sessions, Midlands Golf Week and discount memberships. The CGP held Get into Golf events at university freshers' week and village fetes.

Hammill said: "It is also important to take the message about the potential health benefits that playing golf can bring and the active social life."

Brindley at the double for United

Hednesford United U13 Girls 4
Stafford Town U13 Girls 0

HEDNESFORD dominated possession and chances on a day where heavy rain made for difficult going.

The first half was goalless, but the second period saw Hednesford's football flow.

They scored when Lois Brindley collected a through ball and chipped the keeper. Brindley got her second when heading in a corner from Molly Bruton.

Chloe Barnhurst lashed in the third and Bruton rifled her shot into the top corner to round off the scoring.

St Joseph's Hednesford U11 4
St Mary's U11 0

St Joseph's maintained their 100 per cent start to the Cannock & Rugeley Catholic Schools League.

St Mary's created several early chances before Leighton D'Onofrio scored St Joseph's opener.

The second half saw Joseph's score three more through man of the match Conor Williams and Matt Gallear (2).

Carp tips the scales at more than 93lb

WELL, as if a washout year to date was not enough we go into the last month of the year virtually underwater, writes Vernon Leadbetter.

This year will be remembered for all the times we were unable to go fishing.

Certainly, catch reports have been difficult to come by as anglers have deserted the banks, but Fisherwick Lakes have reported some good trout catches with rod averages above three fish per angler. The carp lake has also produced a few fish up to and over 20lb.

In complete contrast to the weather here last week, I had my annual trip to France and we enjoyed a fairly dry week with some lovely winter sunny days, not warm, but nice for November.

With the lake water temperature a shade over 7C, the carp were feeding.

I was privileged to witness the capture of the one-time world record carp that hit the scales at 93lb 8oz, around 6lb below its top weight but still a truly enormous fish.

Spinning

Well done to Korda supremo Damien Clark on his catch, which was by far the biggest of our 14-fish haul.

With rivers in full spate and some still waters inaccessible due to high levels, it is well worth trying the local canals.

These offer good sport for all, with carp, chub, roach, perch and pike all catchable.

Why not try a spot of light spinning for the perch and pike? You will not need to hump loads of tackle around and you can cover a lot of water in just a couple of hours.

If this is a new approach and appeals to you, call in and have a chat; we can point you in the right direction for success.

Dare I say it, but Christmas is just around the corner and we fishermen always prefer a gift related to our sport rather than talc and hankies.

So it's a good time to start dropping hints to family and friends. We have some very special offers this year to help everyone's budget.

If you have any interesting catches to report please contact me at Archline Angling on 01543 426158.

Alternatively, call into the store at Unit 1, Brindley Business Park, Chaseside Drive, Cannock WS11 7GD.

New-boy Tesfa Robinson heads clear for Chasetown

Scorer Andy Westwood, right, gets the plaudits

Greg Downes gets in a firm tackle for the Scholars

First trip triumphant as Scholars make Hay

CHASETOWN'S first ever visit to Kirklington Road ended in a well-deserved victory.

Goals from Andy Westwood and Gary Hay gave the Scholars the spoils, writes Paul Mullins.

Chasetown had the better of the opening exchanges in this Evo-Stik Northern League First Division South game.

Home keeper Alessandro Barcherini had to be at his best to keep out the first real effort of the game, a shot from the returning Hay, which was saved well.

Rainworth MW 0
Chasetown 2

It was no surprise when the visitors were ahead in the 26th minute. Mark Branch swung in a corner which was cleared to the edge of the penalty area and Westwood drilled in a low shot which Barcherini saw too late to react.

A solitary effort from Wrens striker Karl Slack was all the Nottinghamshire side could muster in the first period and the consensus among the spectators was that a second goal would kill off the hosts.

Clear

That came true two minutes before half-time.

Chasetown counter-attacked quickly and Theo Robinson was put clear from midfield and was bearing down on goal. His attempt to chip Barcherini was thwarted by the goalkeeper flinging himself to his left, but he was unable to get enough strength to push the effort behind for a corner, succeeding only in laying the ball on a plate to Hay who steered it home from a couple of yards out.

Rainworth offered nothing in the first half to give Chasetown any sort of a challenge. In fact, the only threat to Chasetown's victory came during the half-time interval.

A fire at a nearby allotment caused significant smoke to drift across the central area of the pitch and the referee delayed the start of the second half.

It seemed to be a case of how many Chasetown could score, and midway through the half the visitors broke quickly and Hay almost notched his second with a chipped effort.

Chasetown goalkeeper Ryan Price was eventually called into action to keep out a deflected strike from Blair Anderson 19 minutes from time.

With 10 minutes remaining, Greg Downes motored down the right and drilled in a low cross which was cleared off the line by home skipper Mark Camm.

Chasetown had a late penalty appeal turned down but had enough in hand for it not to matter.

Trio pick up world martial arts titles

THREE martial arts students from Rugeley and their instructor have enjoyed world title success.

Kai Harvey, Jack Buckley and Ellie Harvey were among eight students who joined instructor Tony Anderton to represent England in the World Martial Kombat Federation world championships in Sicily.

The three train and compete up to six times a week in the run-up to competitions.

Anderton was crowned a three-time world champion in karate points and also took home a silver for the kickboxing team event.

Ten-year-old Kai Harvey, after winning his first gold in last year's event, became a double world champion after taking the gold in his kickboxing category and also bagged a silver in karate points and a bronze in the kickboxing team event.

Buckley, nine, also took the gold in his kickboxing category along with another gold for the team event and a bronze in karate points.

Seven-year-old Ellie Harvey, the only girl entrant in a mixed gender category, was narrowly beaten in the final of her kickboxing event and finished with silver.

She also got a bronze in karate points and even added another bronze when she was asked to take part in the boys' team 150cm category.

Harvey stepped up, despite facing black belt category boys who were much bigger.

Anderton took eight students to Sicily, four of them from his club in Tamworth.

The party brought back a 20-medal haul of eight golds, six silvers and six bronzes.

Massey gives hosts the boot

Ludlow 12 Lichfield 20

LICHFIELD defended strongly to bounce back from their first rugby union defeat of the season.

Josh Massey got them going with a difficult 35-metre penalty and Charlie Milner grabbed a try to give the visitors an 8-6 lead.

Lichfield fell behind to an early second-half penalty.

But their set-piece was working well, giving them territory, and Massey's boot Massey carried them to victory. He even landed a drop goal, despite difficult conditions.

Callum Connolly – wins

Fast start Callum's third win recorded

RUGELEY boxer Callum Connolly has had his third successive victory – two of them by knockout.

The middleweight is one of a crop of youngsters coming through at Rugeley Police Boys ABC, writes Jonathon Byrne.

Against Ryan Cooper, of Tipton's William Perry ABC, fast-starting Connolly landed fine combinations and heavy shots to take the first round.

In the second he floored Cooper with a left hook and the teenager failed to beat the count.

Connolly's next opponent was Lewis Doyle, of Trinity ABC in Coventry.

Against Cooper, Connolly pounced from the opening bell to land fine shots and sent Doyle crashing to the canvas with a left hook to the body which forced a standing eight count.

Onslaught

In the second round, Doyle's fate was sealed when a relentless onslaught ended with a knockout right hand, left hook combination.

Connolly then travelled to Stoke-on-Trent to take on Callum Hill, from Hulton Abbey ABC.

This proved to be a hard-fought tactical affair which Connolly edged by majority decision after a big push in the third round.

He returns to the ring tomorrow night in Warley.

On the same bill in Stoke-on-Trent, Ryan Hulse, representing Rugeley Police Boys ABC, was narrowly outpointed.

In Birmingham another Rugeley Police fighter, Michael Boulton, won the first round of his bout only to suffer a nasty cut to the eye in the second and lose on a stoppage.

On the same show Myles Basford continued to impress, winning his fourth skills bout in a row.

Moors the merrier as Pitmen defeated in cup

SOLIHULL MOORS came back from a goal down to progress to the second round at the expense of Hednesford Town in soaking conditions on Saturday.

The Pitmen started encouragingly in the opening half-hour and belied the gap in league positions, snapping at the heels of Solihull in midfield and giving them no time to settle on the ball.

Neil Harvey saw his shot blocked during a scramble in the penalty area early on.

Following two corners, which came to nothing, the home side deservedly took the lead on 20 minutes when Dave MacPherson got a decisive touch to Harvey's initial shot.

Hednesford Tn 1 Solihull 2

Moors goalkeeper Jasbir Singh fumbled at a greasy ball and should have done more to keep it out of the corner.

Frustratingly, despite the positive start to the match, Hednesford paid for naive defending twice in a matter of nine minutes and saw their lead disappear. Solihull's equaliser came when John Disney committed himself too easily on the right wing.

Phil Midworth cut inside and measured a cross to the feet of Junior English, who side-footed past Dan Crane on 31 minutes.

The visitors' second goal came nine minutes later. MacPherson dived in in the centre of midfield and the loose ball was picked up by man of the match Omar Bogle, who hit an unstoppable shot past Crane.

The home side pressed forward admirably in the second half for an equaliser in the driving rain but the Pitmen could not quite force a second goal against their opponents from a higher division.

Francino Francis headed over from an Elliott Durrell corner on 50 minutes and Aaron Rey ghosted past three defenders and tested Jasbir Singh with 12 minutes to go.

Ben Bailey's header was scrambled off the line and Michael Lennon stretched to poke wide a late Durrell cross but the Blue Square Conference North outfit celebrated a professional win and the sodden wet management, players and supporters left Keys Park no doubt relieved to find some cover and warmth.

The Pitmen's FA Trophy campaign is now over but credit must go to the way they continued to give everything they had in difficult conditions to try to force a replay.

Rob Smith's team, now nine points off top spot in the Evo Stik Northern Premier Division with three games in hand following another win for leaders North Ferriby United, are left to concentrate on the league.

DURRELL'S SPOT-ON AS CRAVEN RETURNS

HEDNESFORD TOWN have signed Boston United defender Sam Craven as their promotion push continued apace with an 11th victory of the season against Ilkeston.

Craven returns to Keys Park following a loan spell last season which was cut short by an injury sustained at Northwich Victoria in April.

He was given a place on the bench against the Robins on Tuesday night, and boss Rob Smith is pleased to sign a player who will provide competition for places in defence.

"Sam really wanted to sign for us and he gives us extra defensive cover across the central and left side," said Smith. "He gives us strength and versatility.'

Craven will push the defensive trio of Sam Barnes, Francino Francis and Ben Bailey for a place in the team.

Smith confirmed that, with his budget set, a player from the squad will be moved on but stressed the identity of the player is yet to be decided.

"Unfortunately, one squad member will have to go as it's strictly 'one in, one out' with us."

Hednesford Town 2 ilkeston 0

Two second half goals from Elliott Durrell ensured the Pitmen claimed a sixth league win from seven and kept up the pressure on leaders North Ferriby with their top-of-the-table trip looming on Saturday.

Ilkeston started the brighter in the first half on Tuesday as Jack Eades dragged his shot wide from a corner on 10 minutes before Francino Francis half-volleyed over for Hednesford on 23 minutes.

The game came alive on the stroke of half-time.

The Ilkeston travelling support screamed for a goal when a Greg Tempest corner drifted to the back post and beat Dan Crane but the referee deemed the ball hadn't crossed the line and 60 seconds later the home side had a claim for a penalty turned down when Jamey Osborne was felled in the area.

The opening goal came a minute after the restart when a deep cross from the right by Durrell floated over the statue-like Chris Martin and found the top corner.

Hednesford's second goal secured the win when Durrell converted an 84th minute penalty despite the efforts of Martin.

Wednesbury 34 Burntwood 6

A YOUTHFUL Burntwood outfit missing at least six regulars were in contention until half-time.

But Wednesbury scored 27 unanswered points in the second half to take this Midlands Three West (North) encounter.

The visitors began promisingly as Aza Dune't kicked the penalty to open the scoring after six minutes.

With the match played in teeming rain throughout, errors were bound to occur and a mistake at full-back allowed the home side into the visitors' 22. Hal Gozukucuk was sin-binned and Wednesbury immediately took advantage by scoring a pushover try from a scrum.

A successful conversion put the hosts 7-3 ahead but it was not until three minutes before half-time that the scoreboard changed.

Burntwood were helped by a yellow card for a Wednesbury flanker. However, their only reward was a second penalty goal for Dune't. With just a point between the sides at the break, the result hung in the balance but in the second half the home side pulled away with a string of scores.

Hayes try again after washouts

WEATHER played havoc with Heath Hayes' Midland Alliance fixtures.

Last Saturday's trip to Coleshill fell foul of a waterlogged pitch, while Tuesday's home clash with Gornal Athletic was also a victim of the weather.

Hayes try again on Saturday when they go to Tividale.
